

COLD SHOULDER FOR ZAMACONA.

Wilson Will Treat Him as Huerta Treats Land.

Affairs in Mexico Drifting, Administration Believes.

May Withhold Recognition Even After Election.

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Administration officials here are convinced that the Mexican City authorities have no effective plan of their own to bring about peace in Mexico and that the situation there is drifting.

The United States will wait with interest the election scheduled for October 12, but does not feel bound to recognize the government resulting from that election.

Should an election be attempted while most of the country is still up in arms and in which a majority of the people shall have no voice, the American government will adhere to previous precedents and withhold recognition. These are the views expressed by officials in administration circles who know the position of President Wilson.

Charge Alameda of the Mexican Embassy conferred with Secretary Bryan but shed no light on the Zamacona mission.

The attitude of the United States toward Zamacona has been made plain to the Mexican officials—he will be received only if he comes to treat on a new basis and on the assumption that the proposals made by John Land have been finally settled, namely that the request for recognition be withdrawn and Huerta eliminated from the Presidential contest.

These points the American government considers essential and sees no necessity for negotiations unless they are agreed to.

While the situation in Mexico City is described by administration officials as one of quietude, Mr. Land is to remain in Mexico indefinitely, using his own discretion as to when it is best for him to return.

President Wilson left tonight for Cornish, N. H., to spend the week end with his family at the summer White House and (further) changes in further developments are expected. The administration will await with interest, however, the message to be delivered by Secretary Bryan on Tuesday next to the Mexican Congress.

Ranch Manager, Wife and Four Children Who Left Cienega Cienega Plain to Reach the Border.

EAGLE PASS (Tex.) Sept. 11.—Walter Smith, manager of an American ranch near Cienega Cienega, Mex., his wife and four children have been lost in the desert while attempting to reach the American border, according to reports received here today.

The Smith family left the ranch August 27 and should have reached Boguilla, on the border, five days later. Relief parties have been sent to search for them.

ONE CAR TOO MANY.

Santa Clara Dentist Has Two Automobiles and Gets Mixed on Levers of Messenger's Injury.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Dr. Hubert Menton, a dentist of Santa Clara, explained in Police Court here today that an automobile accident in which he ran down and injured a messenger boy was brought about by reason of the fact that he is possessor of two automobiles.

"In one of my cars the stopping lever goes up, and in the other one it goes down, your honor," explained the dentist. "You see, I forgot which car I was driving."

Judge John J. Sullivan then said that the thing that happened was that the dentist had the two cars and he said also that the fine would be $100. Dr. Menton paid.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 11.—Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes opened the annual State Conference of the German Methodist Episcopal Church this morning with a communion service, and permanent organization was effected and committees appointed.

The anniversary of the Women's Foreign and the Woman's Home Missionary Societies were celebrated this afternoon, and this evening the subject of church extension was discussed.

PROFITABLE PUBLICITY.

A newspaper's value as an advertising medium is necessarily measured by its circulation. Circulation, however, involves the character and buying capacity of a paper's readers, and means more than mere distribution.

There is probably no other city in America in which one newspaper so completely outclasses its contemporaries in both quantity and quality of circulation as does The Times in Los Angeles. This journal is not turned to by its subscribers for momentary amusement, as is the case with many other newspapers, but it is read regularly and belatedly by the rank and file of our citizenry, and is an important factor in the life of the majority of the respectable, thinking, earning, industrious and buying men and women within the radius of its circulation.

The Times does not issue a Sunday paper Saturday night, send incomplete editions to out-of-town points, misbrand its editions or resort to any other subterfuge to deceive its advertising patrons, or make its circulation appear to be larger than it actually is.

The Times' circulation figures are based on the number of copies that go to bona fide subscribers, and advertisers who desire to reach the maximum number of buying readers at a minimum cost cannot afford to ignore its pre-eminent value as a publicity medium.

The Times' tremendous popularity, and the profitability of its columns to its advertising patrons, are attested by the fact that it regularly prints a greater volume and a greater variety of liner and display advertising than any other newspaper in the world.

The Times covers the richest of all fields for the advertiser with less waste in its circulation than any other medium, and no advertising campaign can be conducted in Los Angeles and Southern California at the right proportion of cost to results without using its columns.

TRAIL BODEN TO SACRAMENTO.

Police Follow Fugitive to Try on American River but He Gives Them the Slip.

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 11.—The Sacramento police and Sheriff's posse are scouring the city today in search of John Boden who escaped from the custody of the United States marshal in San Francisco yesterday. Boden came to Sacramento today and Nellie Boden who claims to be his wife, near the American River.

The police followed the woman to the river but Boden saw them approaching and took to his heels. He disappeared in the brush along the river, but is believed to have returned to Sacramento.

Irrigation District Planned for Oroville Will Take in Sixty Thousand Acres.

(BY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

OROVILLE, Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first step toward the formation of an irrigation district association of the land-holders in the Oroville district was taken today when a formal call was issued asking that a meeting be called to perfect an organization for the purpose of bringing water upon their lands. A great many of the land-holders have endorsed the proposed district and at the meeting the boundaries will be discussed, bylaws adopted and officers elected. Following the completion of the organization, legal petitions will immediately be placed in circulation for the organization of the district by the Board of Supervisors.

The area which would be included in the district is approximately 60,000 acres. It is proposed to divert the water out of the middle fork of the Feather River and to distribute it by means of ditches and pipe lines to the lands. The entire area is within the bounds of the proposed district is rich orange and olive land, and it is for the purpose of increasing and cultivating land in this district that the land owners have decided to form the association.

Mexican Smugglers Capture Two Deputy Sheriffs.

Americans Held as Hostages May Be Executed.

English Ranch in Coahuila Looted by Guerrillas.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

EAGLE PASS (Tex.) Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While trying to protect the passage of a wagon train of contraband ammunition, a large party of armed Mexicans were attacked by the civil authorities of Dimmitt county, forty miles northwest of this city this morning, and in the battle which followed, it is reported, several Mexicans were killed and two American deputy sheriffs were made prisoners by the band and held as hostages.

That all of the smugglers were not killed or made prisoners was due to the fact that the captured officers begged the Sheriff's posse to cease firing and retire, as the Mexicans threatened to slaughter both prisoners if molested by the authorities.

Information was received at Eagle Pass at daylight that a wagon train bound westward and followed by nearly a score of armed men had passed near Carrizo Springs a few hours previous, and Sheriff Gardner and Deputy Buck, White and Crisolo, with a number of volunteers were sent in pursuit. ## Gaynor Dies Suddenly.

Gaynor's death was announced. Whether another candidate to head the Gaynor League ticket would be named was problematical tonight, being varied from many sources that with the personality of Mayor Gaynor removed it would be useless to continue the league.

A week before Mayor Gaynor called on the Baltic, it now develops, he was visited at his country home at St. James, L. I., by his secretary, Robert Adamson, and Fire Commissioner Joseph Johnson. The latter tonight in speaking of the Mayor's condition at that time, quoted him as saying of his illness:

"I coughed all night long. I could not stop it. My right lung was fighting it out with the fishhook in my throat. I don't know how my heart stood it. I thought it would burst. But the doctor now says that I am all right. He says my heart is still good. I think I shall be all right shortly."

MRS. GAYNOR INFORMED.
News of the death of her husband reached Mrs. Gaynor at the Gaynor country home at St. James, L. I., early this morning.

Many messages of sympathy and condolence were received by Mrs. Gaynor. Only intimate friends of the family were admitted to the house.

DENIED SERIOUS ILLNESS.
Before the Mayor called his secretary issued a statement denying reports of the Mayor's serious illness.

The recent attack of the old chronic trouble, due to the wound inflicted on August 19, 1916, by James J. Gallagher, just as the Mayor was about to leave this city for a brief vacation in Europe, had entirely disappeared, according to Mr. Adamson, and Mr. Gaynor expected to return and enter the campaign with his old time vigor.

The Mayor himself, just before leaving, spoke of his condition as follows:

"I have been nearly four years Mayor and have not yet had any trouble. I suppose almost everybody will concede that I may have one now. I have been laid up a few days with one of the sharp attacks of a few years ago, but I am now over it and hope I never shall have another."

ASSAILED TAMMANY.
He was expected to attack Tammany Hall sharply, politically, as soon as he returned to the city. Before his departure he issued a characteristic statement, leveled at Tammany Hall leaders and other political opponents, in which he referred to them as "miserable scoundrels" and asserted that they were seeking his "moral assassination."

The bullet that lodged in his throat three years ago had never been removed.

The Mayor had at different times within the last year or two told his secretary that the violence of his coughing attacks were a great strain on his heart and he feared that at some time or other one of them might result seriously.

The Mayor used to speak of the irritation in his throat as a "fishhook." It was this "fishhook" probably that caused his death.

Just before he received notification of his nomination by the popular demonstration at the City Hall the Mayor had been in bed off and on for about a week at his summer home at St. James.

Mrs. Gaynor, with one of her unmarried daughters, is at St. James. The other two unmarried daughters are at boarding school up the Hudson. The Mayor's other son is at the Mayor's Brooklyn home.

The Mayor had two married daughters.

Supreme Court of New York in 1902 on a nomination given him by Republicans and Independent Democrats. He was re-elected in 1907, but resigned to accept the nomination for Mayor of New York City, to which he was elected in November, 1909.

His career as Mayor of New York bore the imprint of his personality in many striking innovations. As he expressed it, "I never quarreled with the organization leaders because I was too busy. I simply went on and did my work from day to day, and I kept their hands out of the public treasury."

Mayor Gaynor was a writer of many letters, and attracted national attention by these and his policies. Prior to the Democratic national convention at Baltimore in June, 1912, the mention of his name was frequent in connection with the Democratic nomination for President. He did not have the support of the Democratic organization in this State, however, and was not an active candidate for the place.

Mayor Gaynor's family physician, Dr. John W. Farish, said tonight that the Mayor had suffered from "heart trouble for many years."

"The trouble with his heart had nothing directly to do with his death," he explained. "But, of course, the prolonged strain had its effect on his vitality."

"Mayor Gaynor was a great worker. He never would take any vacation. He fought shy of doctors, even when he had a bad headache, of which he often complained. In the old days when he was on the bench he would stay longer in court than any other justice—often until 4, when I would suppose to adjourn at 4. I warned him over and over again that he must take a thorough rest."

"He was absolutely impossible," was his only answer.

A definite understanding that the body of Mayor Gaynor should be brought here in a coffin, was reached late tonight between members of the late Mayor's family and representatives of the White Star line.

CAREER OF THE NEW MAYOR.

Gaynor's Successor Has Served Two Terms as a New York Alderman. Succeeding Mitchell as Chairman.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Adolph J. Kline, who has become Mayor of New York City, was the Republican Alderman from the Fifth District in Brooklyn. He is 55 years old, and a native of Sussex county, N. J. He is the son of Margaret and Anthony Busby Kline. He is of Scotch-Irish strain on his mother's side, while his father was German.

Col. Kline became president of the Board of Aldermen July 7, 1915, automatically succeeding John Purroy Mitchell former head of that body, who became Collector of the Port, by appointment of President Wilson, to succeed William Loeb.

Mr. Kline was vice-chairman of the Aldermanic board from January 1, 1912, until the date of his appointment to the presidency of the board. As vice-chairman he has served on many important committees.

Mr. Kline attended private and public schools at Andover, and Newton, N. J. In 1877 he entered the employ of W. C. Post & Co., New York City, where he continued until 1888.

Col. Kline was nominated in 1902 for Sheriff of Kings county on the Republican ticket. Though defeated, he ran about 5000 votes ahead of the head of the ticket.

In the following year he was elected to represent the Fifth District in the Board of Aldermen for the term of 1904-5. He was returned for the period of 1908-9.

His party again nominated him for the succeeding term, but he was defeated. On January 1, 1908, he was appointed Assistant Appraiser of Merchandise for the port of New York by President Roosevelt, an office which he held until his resignation, July 1, 1911. In November, 1911, he was again elected to represent the Fifth District in the Board of Aldermen for the term of 1912-13. He was elected vice-chairman by the fusion members.

He has acted as Mayor pro tem. on various occasions since Mr. Mitchell's appointment.

San Francisco's Mayor Orders

Flags at Half Mast When He Hears of New York's Death.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As soon as the news of Mayor Gaynor's death reached the City Hall, Mayor Rolph ordered that the flags on all public buildings be put at half mast. This was done at once and flags were also lowered on many private buildings.

The Mayor issued the following statement expressing his regret at the sad news:

"The death of Mayor Gaynor removes from public life a national figure."

"The Mayor of New York, next to the President of the United States, is the most widely known official in this country."

"Mayor Gaynor spent a lifetime in the public service, and leaves a clean record."

"I regret his death and sympathize with his family and the city of New York."

MURPHY SHOCKED.
REGRETS GAYNOR'S DEATH.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, whom Mayor Gaynor, just before sailing had scathingly denounced as chief of the forces opposing him, had this to say on learning of the Mayor's death: "I was very much shocked. I knew he went away a very sick man. I deeply regret his death."

MAUDLIN TALK BY GOMPERTS.

AGITATOR PREFERS EUROPE'S INDUSTRIAL SYSTEM.

Tells House Lobby Committee Employers Take Better Care of Welfare of Workers Than of Employees and Declares He and Two Associates Mark Congressmen for Defeat.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, closed his two days' testimony before the House Lobby Committee tonight with a dramatic warning to the manufacturers of the country, a defense of the legislative activities of the federation and a bitter attack upon the Sherman anti-trust law as applied to labor unions.

Gompers spoke at the end of a day devoted to an inquiry into the political and legislative efforts of the federation. He began with a statement in the United States, which has "burst" into industrial life, there is no feeling between employer and employees such as is found in European nations, where industrial life to some extent has taken the place of serfdom and of relations between master and man, the product of centuries. In Europe, he said, this transition has been accompanied by a deeper feeling for the employee and in consequence those countries were decades ahead of the United States in legislation for the protection of lives of working men.

"The lives of working men count for nothing in the United States," he said. "It seems to me that the life of a horse is of more value than the life of a human being to our manufacturers. If this slaughter does not end I do not know what our industrial, commercial, political and particularly our humane life will come to."

The manufacturers of this country, he added, opposed all acts of legislation designed to protect the working man.

REVIEWS COURT DECISIONS.
Reviewing at some length the court decisions against labor organizations under the Sherman Act, the witness said:

"The federation exists at the sufferance of an administration. Under the Sherman law and the procedure of the courts the normal activities of the association in the exercise of power—no more than the individual exercises every day—the power to withhold patronage are restrained and three-fold damages can be claimed and obtained."

He said since the congressional campaign of 1906, the federation's political activity has not been systematic but rather sporadic. He declared he was opposed to Socialism.

"I believe in doing something to better things today—tomorrow," he said. "I came to the conclusion many years ago that we should work for the better evolution of society in which we live and not for the downfall of society."

Gompers testified that the final determination on a policy of opposition or support by the federation to congressional candidates was made by himself, Vice-President James A. O'Connell and Secretary Frank Morrison.

GIVE RECORD OF VOTES.
In few cases, he said, did that committee go further than furnish a record of votes by the candidates on the bills affecting labor. Exceptions were made where men showed a particular hostility to such measures or a particular friendliness. Active participation he said, was taken by the federation only when it was requested from labor workers in a district.

Gompers denied that he had promised to "swing the labor vote" of more than 2,000,000 to any one in the national campaign of 1908.

He said he could not and would not attempt to deliver that vote.

"No official of the American Federation of Labor can command or order any man to do anything," he said. "They may advise and suggest and recommend, but that is all."

San Francisco Rushing Friend to Hospital Is Charged With Manslaughter by the Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Susan Hendel, a middle-aged deaf woman, could not hear warnings shouted at her and was fatally crushed under the wheels of an automobile driven by Lawrence Frugoli tonight. Frugoli was on his way to a hospital with a sick friend and after the accident promptly gave himself up to the police, by whom he was charged with manslaughter.

Mrs. Hendel was alive when she was picked up, but she died on the way to the Emergency Hospital. It was found that she had suffered a compound fracture of the skull, besides other injuries. Frugoli is a number of persons who witnessed the accident, said the automobile was moving within speed limits.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Death of Mayor Gaynor as he met at rest in his bed at his summer home at St. James, L. I., was a brilliant one. He passed away with a smile on his face.

The details of how the end came for the noted New Yorker are contained in a wireless message from C. L. Williams, a novelist, who was called here tonight.

"I think I was the last person to see Mayor Gaynor alive," Mrs. Williams said. "As I walk down the steps of my house, I saw him sitting in his accustomed place, just ahead of me, and he was a recognition. He spoke to me and I answered him. He was smiling and his eyes were bright."

ROYALTY SEEKS ALBANIAN CROWN

Great European Powers Play a Farce Comedy.

Little Country Has Peculiar Wedding Customs.

Match-Making a Privilege of Stronger Sex.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BELOGRADE, Aug. 25.—Behind the scenes of the different chancelleries of Europe a great comedy is now in progress. It relates to that great dramatic of the great powers—the selection of a ruling Prince for Albania, and the motive of the new day, the jealousy of the dual alliance and their English friend, for that concerns the triple alliance. In diplomacy England does not now what it is to be unselfish, so per se naturally she desires that the future ruler of Albania should be an Englishman, particularly as several young British princelings just now appear to be without fortune or obvious prospects of a throne. Russia would prefer somebody more friendly and pliable, while Germany, Austria and Italy have candidates of their own up their sleeves—candidates who will shut their eyes and open their mouths and be thankful to act upon instructions that may be given by them. The Balkan courts, too, are active centers of intrigue over Albania, the naval importance of which they constitute a serious menace to Austria, Italy, or, in unfriendly hands, to Greece.

And Albania herself is not that weary desert of brigands and cutthroats that the comic opera and apocryphal legends have made it. It is a fertile, fertile and is quite a pleasant, rather warlike, kind of place. It only is a great power and the Balkan states can be persuaded to leave its people alone. True, its literary output is inconsiderable, but what of that? Literature is not life, and Albania gets a quite well with its own natural products in the shape of warlike baid and nuptial hymns. The former are continually being increased by the heroics of the heroes who fall in annual spring wars; the latter are dated and stereotyped as become a people that has little time for daily life.

ALBANIAN COURTSHIP.

As a matter of fact, the Albanian courtship is a minimum. It is fitted in between two campaigns, brief prelude to the marriage which is duty to his race. He is not allowed to wed until he has proved his prowess in the field, and weddings take place during time of truce with the Turks, which is usually in the month of May. Elaborate ceremony is observed with the warrior who usually tills his bit of ground, exciting every moment to be called to fight for possession of it, a healthy stimulation for formalities.

Nor is there any dilatoriness on the part of the bride. While the man and of Albania is on the battlefield bridal clothes are diligently being woven at home. Whether it be the result of a cradle-betrothal—this and seclusion of women are practices borrowed by Christian Albanians from the Moslem oppressor—or a suddenly improvised match, the courtship is short and sweet, enhanced by mystery. Until the priest has made them man and wife the Albanian may not see the face of his lady love, though she has probably had a glimpse of him through her window many a time.

MATCH-MAKING.

Match-making in Albania is a privilege of the stronger sex. Clans which have fought together, or have common interests, cement fraternity by inter-marriages. The chief of a tribe is an accomplished "arranger" and his suggestions are taken as behests. This is how he proceeds: Casting his eagle eye around the board where are grouped his followers at the midday meal, he singles out a stalwart fledgling and inquires in full swing; a special room in the preceding the information that he will speak with the young man in private after the meal. Glances of envy from the ineluctable follow the chosen one as he hastens to the appointed interview which will reveal to him the name of his life partner and the date of the ceremony. After a few grave, appreciative words about the manner in which the youth has acquitted himself in the last combat the chief says: "It is just that you are now allowed to wed. The Skell (or other) tribe are our allies and their maidens are handsome and industrious. Verim (he tells me his cousin Tashin has a daughter of your years. If you intervene you can take her in a week from today."

KISSES CHIEF'S HAND.

The bridegroom-elect stoops to kiss the hand of his chief in gratitude, for his thoughtful solicitude, and then hastens to inform his parents of his prospects. Preparations are at once in full swing; a special room in the common household is set aside for the young pair; a deputation of the bridegroom's friends waits on the bride's immediate relatives to make the formal demand for her hand.

They are received with what pomp the mountain fastnesses allow. The door of the bride's house is draped with gay bunting that all passers-by may know of the approaching joyful event. The visitors are welcomed by all her family standing solemnly in a semi-circle. The preliminaries are carried out in silence. A tray bearing dried fruits, leather shoes and headpieces of cloth adorned with spangles—the bridegroom's gift to the bride—are laid on the table by the visitors. Honey, liquors and linen towels of the bride's own weaving are offered in return. This exchange is tantamount to a pact whose transgression on either side must be wiped out in blood.

The Catholic clergy now insist on the girl being consulted before the gift-bearers enter the house, but she rarely objects to the husband ordained for her by her parents. Her total unacquaintance with other men, her carefully fostered sense of duty, make for domestic peace and as great a sum of happiness as these simple minds can conceive. An Albanian bride brings no dowry, but a supply of household linen and clothes sufficient for a generation. She puts on all her dresses, one over the other, to the extent of five or six, on her wedding-day, pinning up the skirt adroitly so that each may be seen. Adorned with the head-dress and the shoes sent by the bridegroom, she stands in a corner of the room for the delectation of the female friends who come to stare and criticize and advise.

RIDER HOME ON STEED.

A white steed caparisoned in red velvet, led by two of the bridegroom's "supporters," carries her, thickly veiled, over the mountain roads to her new home. She is attended by a retinue of her own male relatives who accompany her to the very door in order to impress her new family with the strength of the avenging party that they will have to face should she be neglected or ill-used. During the journey the following verses are sung:

The bride approaches, lovely as a blossom,
The bride is at the door, a bud of fragrance sweet.
The bride is here, a flower of bright promise,
Let us throng to meet her lest her heart grows faint.

COUNTESS WEDS A COACHEMAN.

Romantic Marriage of Daughter of Wealthy Budapest Noblemen Starves Husband's Family.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BUDAPEST, Aug. 21.—Particulars are obtainable today of the romantic marriage of Countess Pongray, a daughter of a millionaire member of the House of Magnates, to her father's coachman, Johann Ondrasik, a peasant woman, and works in the house and on the farm. She looks after a horse, and makes herself responsible for the work in the dairy. All the milk sold passes through her hands.

She speaks German, French and English, besides her mother tongue. She has known her husband since she was 5 years of age, and at 16, when he rescued her from a river, she fell in love with him.

When she returned to the convent at Vienna, where she was being educated, she wrote to Ondrasik, informing him that he was the man of her choice. Then followed a love correspondence.

The Countess' father was informed of what was taking place, with the result that his Countess was brought from Vienna and shut up in a castle belonging to her father, in the hope that she would renounce her infatuation for the coachman. But she refused to give him up, and in the end eloped with him.

After the marriage her father died, and she returned to the family castle. But her brother forbade her to enter the death chamber, and, taking some coins from his pocket, offered them to her with the request that she should purchase a revolver and blow her brains out.

The Countess says she does not regret her choice, and is perfectly happy.

American Ambassador Says He Won't Wear Them at the Court of King George.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Dr. Page, the United States Ambassador to the court of King George, has stated that he will not wear knee breeches at the state functions in England.

As a matter of fact, the American Ambassador and the personnel of the embassy always wear ordinary evening dress at levees and Courts, but in private functions, when the Ambassador meets the King, he invariably wears "trock" dress, which, as everyone knows, consists of ordinary evening dress, with black breeches to match, silk stockings and pumps. The question of dress was settled, and it was understood for good and all, during Mr. Choate's term of office, and Mr. Whitelaw Reid, always conformed to this rule.

WASTES WEALTH ON SOCIALISM.

Duchess of Warwick Unable to Pay Her Debts.

Plays Lady Bountiful Until Fortune Is Dissipated.

Abandons American Tour to Settle With Creditors.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 21.—There is news of the Socialist Countess of Warwick, who last year accepted an offer of a lecture tour in the United States at a fee of $7500 per lecture, but suddenly in the midst of the tour abandoned the project and returned to Europe. She and the Earl, her husband, are calling their creditors together with a view to making an arrangement to liquidate their debts.

The Socialists of Europe will not easily get over the blow to their cause involved in the fact that one of their leading spokeswomen now finds she cannot pay for the things she has purchased and used. The Earl of Warwick, and is still an alderman. He is one of the best-known Free Masons in England, and has held high provincial and other honors.

His great delight, however, has always been salmon-fishing, and he has invariably gone to Ireland for the two spring months of the year. In 1912 he was on the celebrated Careyville waters and he and three other rods killed 808 salmon.

Lord Warwick tells himself a good story, when alluding to the accident of birth. He said when he was drilling the Warwickshire Yeomanry a man in very poor circumstances came up and said: "Good morning, colonel; I know you very well, my lord."

The peer answered that he did not remember the man, whereupon the latter rejoined: "My lord, I am the baby you were vaccinated from."

"So," added the Earl, "perhaps the blood of one of the poorest of my fellow-citizens is coursing through my veins at the present moment."

The "Socialist Countess," as Lady Warwick, one of the most beautiful women in the country, has often been styled, is the lineal representative of the Maynards, who have had their seat at Easton Lodge, Essex, for 300 years. On the Essex estate the Countess founded a technical school for boys and girls of the district and a college in Warwickshire for training the daughters of professional men in dairy, bee and poultry keeping, and also in horticulture. She has acted, too, as president of the Essex Needlework Guild and revived the dying art of fine needlework. Some one once neatly said: "She makes Royal Princesses Grieve in Silence.

Daughters of the Czar.

Grand Duchess Olga and her sister, Grand Duchess Tatiana, appear in the above picture. They are reported to be aware of the power that the Princesses Orloff exercise over the Czar and Russia, but bear their resentment and grief in silence.

CHAOS RULES IN SCUTARI BY RADIUM TO THE MOON.

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION IS CALLED A FARCE. FRENCH WRITER PREDICTS IT MAY BE ACCOMPLISHED.

Troops of the Powers Are Accused of Stealing Merchants' Wares from the Outposts and Inhabitants Say They Would Prefer Tunder Graces of the Turks.

[A. P. Correspondence to The Times.] VIENNA, Aug. 31.—Scutari, the Albanian town which the Montenegrins were forced by the Powers to surrender to an international commission after its capture and occupation, is in a state of chaos, according to private letters reaching here.

The administration under the international commission, presided over by the British admiral, Sir Cecil Burney, is declared to be a farce. The police have lost their heads and do not seem to know whom to obey. Everybody gives orders and nobody pays attention to them afterwards.

The international troops are accused of stealing the merchants' goods and the Albanian owners are afraid to complain. The military are omnipotent. The admiral's council, the Albanian council, is in a state of chaos, according to private letters reaching here.

Many of the inhabitants declare that they would rather return to the rule of the despotic Turks, as everything is so hopelessly muddled, especially the administration of justice. The chief justice of the criminal court is a French officer who knows none of the local language. His official translation is in French, and the Albanian judges, who are supposed to be the most intelligent of the Albanians, are in a state of chaos, according to private letters reaching here.

According to the mathematical calculations of M. Esnault-Pelterie, the new method of interplanetary transport will be Jules Verne's cannon ball transformed into a continuous self-propelling rocket. The problem is to give the rocket a self-contained velocity of eleven kilometers (nearly seven miles) a second, which would be sufficient for it to leave the circle of terrestrial attraction. At this velocity our planet could be girdled in sixty-six minutes, and the journey from Paris to Nice covered in under two minutes.

"Now, with twenty-seven kilograms (about sixty pounds) of radium, the projectile of one ton could be shot from the earth to the moon in about forty-nine hours. The molecular projections of radium would be made to work by reaction. The difficulty is to find how to release the energy contained in the radium, and the present state of science it would take 2800 years to set free.

"The difficulty is not insuperable when we think what has already been achieved. With 400 kilograms, that is to say, three-fifths of a ton, on board, a visit might be made to Venus and back to earth again."

Mother Principle in Nature. [Atlantic Monthly.] There is a mother principle alive in all nature which never dies. This is different from the mother instinct, the mother passion. The oak and the amoeba respond to the mother principle. It is a law of life; it is one of the constants of being. The mother instinct or passion, on the other hand, occurs only among the higher animals; it occurs not sporadically quite, for it is common enough, yet while generally found, in the rank of the amoeba, the most interesting, most beautiful of animal traits, it is at the same time the most individual and the most costly.

This cow of my neighbors that I hear lowing is an entirely gentle creature ordinarily, but with a calf at her side she will pick at any morsel which approaches her. And there is no other cow of the herd who mourns so long when her calf is taken away. The mother in her is stronger, more enduring, than in any of the other nineteen in the barn. In my own calf it is hardly more than blind instinct, but it is the feeling for the calf, the tree's feeling for its acorn, or the amoeba's for its divided self.

Carpenteria. CARPENTERIA, Sept. 11.—It is planned to have the county take over the Carpenteria cemetery, under the provisions of the recent law. While calls for the sinking of a well, placing an engine, erecting a tank and laying pipes for complete watering system. Goats and Lambs cemeteries are operating under the county maintenance plan.

A committee of the Chamber of Commerce is at work raising $100, the amount necessary to place a five-foot walk along the length of Lynden avenue.

Lucian Higgins broke his wrist while cranking his automobile, caused by the sudden back-firing of the engine.

Some Contrasts of the Position Women Now Hold, Things They Do, and the Public Estimate of Them. [New York Commercial.] From time to time the Commercial has noted with concern and interest the activities and antics of various members of the uneasy sex. It is not alone in its interest as witness the news columns of all the newspapers every day. We note that a woman has obtained a license to drive a cab. One flippant paragrapher would know whether she is to be called a hack, a lady or a cabaret. She will undoubtedly answer any call for legitimate service and fulfill her contracts with honesty and efficiency. Furthermore, she will command the respect to which anyone of ability and integrity is entitled.

In further contrast attention is called to the news that a Supreme Court justice has denied an application for a decree of separation from her husband to a woman who charged that the man had "old-fashioned ideas" regarding duties of the stock and that he preferred his medical practice to his companionship. The man answered that his partner had cost him $11,000 more than his income during the past four years. Under these circumstances it is not surprising to conceive that a man might find it necessary to work over-time at curing people and his absorption in his profession could not be a reflection on the lady's charm either.

And in close proximity to this news is the statement that a French woman who acquires revenue from her reputation for ugliness will wear a ring in her nose when she again edifies the tired business man of these parts.

There is much more indicating that the world continues full of human nature and that humans are "warious." It also indicates the acuteness of the philosopher who said that little could be said in criticism of the world that could not be said about people. Men and women both are honest and hard-working. They are wrong-headed and have small and mortal faults. They are beneficent and noble. They are clever and silly.

The public has suddenly discovered that there are good and bad women, silly and sensible women, vulgar and cultured women, conscientious and lazy women, demonstrates amply that people as a whole lack a sense of proportion. All of which may make the person who views the world as the essential nobility and humanity a bit tired. At the same time the sight is interesting and as long as he observes does not affect him personally, he may find it enjoyable.

Some day when a crisis comes, when a really big thing happens, and the attention of all people is centered on the essential nobility and humanity of American manhood and womanhood, which was recognized so surely by Lincoln, will come to the fore and the comparatively minor things will be relegated to their proper place in the scheme of creation.

Uplift by this faith there is small cause to worry.

BENEFIT OF SELF-CONTROL.

During a Fire in the Chimney It Enabled Mr. Brown to Reach the Roof With a Rope Instead of Hose. [Youth's Companion.] Mr. Brown was excited by nature, but he often prided himself audibly upon his self-control. One night while the family were gathered at the tea table the chimney began to roar; the furnace draft had been opened and forgotten. Straightway a panic seized Mr. Brown. "Don't lose your heads—keep cool," cried Mr. Brown. It is nothing serious.

He dashed up the stairs, discovering that the metal cap over the only unused stovepipe hole was already red hot, and dashed down again faster than he went up.

"Keep cool," he gasped, as he passed through the room where the family had gathered in nervous apprehension. "I'll be back in a minute."

He was back in less than that time, having observed that the flames were spouting several feet high from the chimney, and that a shower of sparks was falling upon the roof.

"Where's the step-ladder?" he asked.

He was gone before anyone could answer the question, and presently was heard bellying from the roof of the woodshed. He presented a heroic figure in the glare of the blazing chimney.

"I've got the end of the hose!" he called. "Someone attach the other end to the water—quick!"

"Two long minutes passed."

"Why don't someone do as I ordered?" he thundered. "Do you want the place to burn up?"

"We can't, Henry!" called Mrs. Brown, tremblingly. "You haven't got the hose—you've got the cow rope. It will hang up in the hole in the shed. And anyway the rope is covered with ice and I don't think there's any great danger of sliding. You'd better stop and watch the chimney from the inside."

A half hour later the family were again at the tea table.

"What happened in some home?" remarked Mr. Brown. "The family would have lost their heads completely and sent in an alarm."

"Self-control is an excellent thing—and far from common."

"Indeed it is!" agreed Mrs. Brown, emphatically.

Close views of the fire which was prevented from doing great damage in the Glendale-La Canada district yesterday afternoon. At the top is the blaze as it appeared on the edge of a fruit orchard. Below are men working with shovels in the dense smoke in the path of the flames.

Fire went so fast through one orchard that it merely licked up the dry grass, left a charred ground and sped on its way.

The fire, as it came rolling across the foothills, swept over the undulating ground with new impetus as it reached the top of each succeeding knoll. Many men, following the fire to beat it back from orchards and homes, were lost for many minutes in the dense smoke.

The Pasadena police helped materially, for the police captured a crew of Mexicans who supplemented the work of the residents and made certain that the fire would not spread into the zone of dwellings. While the main fire was beating its way into Eagle Rock Valley, where it was finally put under control and checked without material damage.

City Commissioners Salisbury and Allen of Pasadena were on the ground and helped the work of fighting the flames.

Eventually, the greatest loss from the fire will be the Pasadena water department, for the fire swept area is a part of the Arroyo Seco watershed. It is now skinned of vegetation, not a bush or blade of grass remaining to conserve the water supply of the coming winter.

CIVIL SERVICE FIGHT COMING.

Chairman Evans Versus the Board of Supervisors.

Former Ignored Ruling and Orders Examinations.

Important County Posts at Stake in Controversy.

Friction rapidly developing between Chairman David Evans of the County Civil Service Commission and the Board of Supervisors is expected to come to a focus at Monday's meeting.

Whether an open break occurs depends on the extent to which the board will stand back of Dr. Whitman, superintendent of the County Hospital, P. H. Joyner, chief engineer of the Highway Commission, and A. J. Hill, county engineer.

Chairman Evans has posted a notice for a civil service examination for the county civil service posts at Monday's meeting.

It is believed that all three will merely "stand pat" until some reason appears for action.

Hill rendered an opinion a few days ago to the effect that appointments to positions in the county library need not take any action.

Chairman Evans, who is re-elected by the board, is a member of the board of supervisors.

Evans and Supervisor Norton have been standing together on virtually every matter of policy since the day Norton proposed Evans as a member of the newly-created Civil Service Commission.

It is said to be doubtful if the charter provision concerning this body is in conformity with the State Constitution.

ALL TOGETHER TODAY TO SAVE YUMA BRIDGE PLAN.

LONG pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether will be made today to raise the remaining funds necessary to insure the building of a bridge across the Colorado River at Yuma and make possible an interstate highway linking Phoenix and Los Angeles.

Only $1600 remain to be raised, but the money must be secured by noon today when President George Michelson of the Yuma Commercial Club starts for home.

There would have been no trouble over the funds for this most important development had Gov. Johnson not seen fit to exercise a pocket veto and permit California's legislative appropriation to go by default in favor of some of the side show bills of "Holy Hiram's" own advocacy.

The bridge is to cost $75,000, of which sum Arizona promptly set aside $15,000. The government has loaned $25,000, provided the remaining $35,000 was raised by September 15.

When California failed to come through Michelson took up the battle and came to Los Angeles, where with the aid of F. J. Zeehandelaar, John Mitchell, Carl McRay and a few other good-road boosters, he has secured subscriptions for $4000. The Clearing House Association, $1000; The Wholesale Grocers' Association, $500; and $1000 individual offerings.

Imperial county is down for $7500; San Diego for $9000; and Yuma for $3000 in addition to its pro rata for the state appropriation. The money must be in the hands of the Board of Supervisors of Imperial county by noon on Monday or the entire project will fall, and with it will go for a long time the opportunity to develop closer trade and personal relations with the growing state across the border.

The wholesalers of Los Angeles realize something of the seriousness of the situation, and the project which is endorsed by the financial and business interests here will probably receive enough support during the eleventh hour to save the project.

The Governor in his refusal to approve of an expenditure of a large section of the state as the new bridge will be thrown in.

Anyhow, the local justice refused to issue the warrant, and after the Watts system of personally conducted affairs de honneur the population chooses sides, and now there is said to be a lot of excitement over the question. Resolved, that a plan is all same Monte Carlo.

Senator Butler laughed when asked about it at his home, No. 5300 St. Placido street, last night. "I have been served with no complaint," he said, "and only know what my manager at Watts, J. W. Fanabian, tells me. Those who know me understand that I am opposed to gambling. I do not take the matter seriously. It is probably the act of jealous competitors."

Butler runs a general store in Watts and P. T. Adelsbach runs the "Advertiser." Between them they plan to slip a perfectly good plan to the lady or gentleman who is the greatest number of votes in a given time, the volume of the plan is the volume of the plan.

CAHUENGA DISTRICT TO ANNEX IF CITY HELPS.

CONSIDERABLE opposition to the annexation idea as a desideratum of the city developed yesterday at the preliminary organization meeting of the Cahuenga land holders whose intention to form a great irrigation district was told exclusively in yesterday's Times. However it was made apparent by all the speakers that such opposition will cease if it is shown that annexation will benefit the territory through practical aid by the city.

Among those present were Charles F. O'Brien, representing the Charles F. O'Brien Company; Gilbert S. Wright, representing the Wright-Candler-Andrews Company; Percy H. Clark, representing the Percy H. Clark Company; Gen. Harry, commander of the Soldiers' Home; Del Valle and Erkenbrocher of the Public Service Commission; W. B. Mathews, attorney for the water department; J. B. Lippincott, president of the Los Angeles Realty Board; Allan G. Hancock and many other large holders.

Charles F. O'Brien, who was chairman of the meeting, at the outset introduced the subject of annexation to the city as a possible condition for securing water from the aqueduct.

MAY INDICT LYMAN AGAIN.
Promoter of the Panama Development Company Believed Object of Fresh Work by Grand Jury.

Dr. John Grant Lyman, promoter of the Panama Development Company, may be indicted again by the Federal grand jury. A score of witnesses have been summoned and it is understood that the inquisitorial body will make a report on the case in open court next Monday.

The fight against the indictments was conducted by ex-Atty.-Gen. Donovan of Montana, but he has since quit the service of the former clubman and has moved to Los Angeles. The reason for returning another indictment against Lyman is not known, except that perhaps recent developments in Panama made such a course necessary.

If another indictment is found, it is likely to cause a further postponement of the case. Postoffice Inspector Raymond Gray of Boston, who was active in the prosecution of Lyman previous to his flight north, is here preparing evidence to be used in the trial.

It is known that Lyman will use every endeavor to stave off a trial until there is a prospective change in the office of the District Attorney. The closest scrutiny has been exercised in the office of the District Attorney, to the extent that Lyman takes no unfair advantage in his coming trial. In order to circumvent certain people who are known to have been recently in his employ, the list of term trial jurors was not given out to the press until the day they were summoned to appear and qualify, lest his friends might interview prospective jurors in regard to his case.

BABY IN GRAVE DANGER.
Three-Year-Old Youngster Walks Into the Sea at Redondo Beach.

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 11.—Wilfred, the 3-year-old son of W. Shultz, the engineer's office of Los Angeles, wandered from his grandfather's side this afternoon and stepped into the water and was rapidly being carried out to sea in the current from the discharge pipes of the Pacific Electric Light and Power Company's plant. The youngster was rescued by a man who waded in and secured the little fellow, who was completely submerged. Merle Reed and Clifford Bower, life guards of the Redondo bath-house, who answered the call sent in, assisted the man in rescuing the little boy and carried him to his home.

As a result of hurrying to the scene of the reported drowning near the Pacific Light and Power Company's plant, the afternoon Life Guard George Freeth had a broken leg. When the alarm was sent in to the bath-house, Freeth was driving the life-saving motorcycle for practice, and he hurried for the scene of the accident. In swerving to one side to avoid running into a newboy who was riding the machine into the curbing and it collided with a telephone pole. Freeth was thrown to the ground and George Mitchell, who was riding the machine, stepped on the motorcycle, attempted to stop the big machine, which refused to stop until he steered it into the opposite curb and it collided with the Mitchell home on the Esplanade.

NEWS BRIEFS.
While life guards and his mother, frantic from anxiety, and others searched the beach at Hermosa and nearby, the case of David Williams, charged with the poisoning of his wife, Mrs. Melissa Williams, some weeks ago at San Bernardino, comes up for a preliminary hearing in Justice of the Peace Hanna's court tomorrow morning. Mrs. Williams, the aged wife of the young Apollo, who is now in the county jail, has sufficiently recovered and will be at the hearing, and is expected to furnish some startling statements. It is said that Williams, before parting of his meals at the County Jail, drops to his knees and prays to be delivered safely through the coming trial, declaring himself innocent of the charge.

Declaring she did not wish to see any accident, Mrs. E. C. Merryfield, a prominent society woman of the city, hesitated going to the Corona races, but on the assurance of husband and friends that there was little danger she finally acquiesced. Fate took a hand, however, and every accident of importance happened in plain view of the Merryfield car, and Mrs. Merryfield was compelled to see them all.

The employees on the water front of the Pacific Electric Company, the people who have assisted in entertaining and serving more than half a million passengers during the season, will have their outing tomorrow and Tuesday, given by the company to these faithful employees. The first division of the employees comprising fifty-five men and women, will be given a trip tomorrow, leaving in a special car early in the morning. They will go to Playa del Sur, Los Angeles, the O'Brien Farm, and have dinner in Sycamore Grove. From there they will go to Long Beach, Santa Ana, Los Angeles, and back to Redondo Beach. The second division will be given their picnic next Tuesday.

The Los Angeles Life Insurance Underwriters' Association will come here Saturday. A banquet will be served at Hepburn & Terry's. Just as A. L. Garrison of Los Angeles is handling a large mackerel from wharf No. 3 to add to the big string he had caught this afternoon, a messenger touched him on the shoulder and told him his house was in flames in the city. Garrison left his fish and hastened to Los Angeles.

HUNTINGTON BEACH.
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 11.—The Carnegie Corporation having now approved the amended plans for a public library building here, the library trustees are advertising for bids for the construction of the building and it is expected that work on it will be begun in November. It is to cost $10,000.

The jettisoning and driving of the big reinforced concrete piles for the $70,000 pier here was begun today. The piles which weigh on an average nine tons, are handled with winches having steam engine power and are placed in position and afterwards the ocean bottom is driven from under them with powerful streams of water. When sunk to the proper distance they are tapped a few times with a 2500-pound steam hammer. The work of driving the piles will consume two months and the building of the reinforced concrete superstructure will require about that much more time.

The local grammar school opened Monday with an enrollment of 224, which will soon be increased. The faculty now numbers nine teachers and the curriculum includes domestic science and mechanical instruction in the higher grades.

BONDS AUTHORIZED.
SANTA ANA, Sept. 11.—Only 15 per cent. of the voters of the city voted today, but a sufficient number of those who did vote favored the issue of bonds for improvement of the water and fire systems. Of the issue authorized, $25,000 will be used for extensions to the water system, and $12,000 for the betterment of the fire department.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS.

This sign ought not to be in the parks, perhaps, because the people are entitled to all the reasonable comfort they can take in public places. If they can lie down on the earth now and then it is good for them and they pay taxes for the privilege. The sign ought, however, to be on all private lawns which have the luck or the misfortune to be at street corners. It is so easy for pedestrians to sacrifice the other fellow's property by saving themselves a step or two. Turn your corners squarely and save the grass.

A REAL ISSUE.

A health expert at a Colorado Springs convention said that $200,000,000 can be saved annually by proper sanitation. Of course, it is a question of money means. It will be done about it. We are glad to see practical men at the head of movements of this kind. They talk in terms that people can understand. Now, if some sensational enthusiast had remarked that that many lives could be saved nobody would have paid any attention to him. We have to strike people where they are concerned before we can get any action out of them.

LET THEM TALK.

Pasadena Socialists are again agitating free speech in the city parks. It was the popular idea of a park that it was a place for rest. People used to go there for a little peace and a breath of fresh air under the shade of trees. Nevertheless, we would not be opposed to the dedication of some park or park with exceedingly high walls where the Reds could gather, shout themselves hoarse, talk one another deaf and aphorize the whole bunch of themselves on general principles. They are all talk, anyway, and never can agree among themselves on anything, so it ought to be fixed so that they could torment one another and let the public alone.

NOTHING BUT LEAVES.

About the most expensive things the Los Angeles florists try to sell are oak leaves. Back East you could get a forest of them for nothing, but the people out here are not back East and do not want to be. A ticket across the Mississippi River is too much to pay for a few oak leaves and a handful of golden rods. It is very much better to have these shipped by express and pay the florist his price. Buying them does not confess homesickness. This is home and you cannot be sick for what you have. No, the purchase of these things is only for old time's sake. They stand out as memories of childhood when you drove the cows to pasture through dewy fields of crimson clover and stepped on wriggly things with your bare feet.

TO STUDY AMERICAN PRISONS.

Germany realizes that it may derive some benefit from a study of American penal institutions and has decided to send over four commissioners to inspect some of the more notable prisons in the United States. Germany has made considerable progress in recent years in the development of reform schools for boys and girls. These institutions are founded on the American plan. The George Junior Republic and various reformatories will be scrutinized by the German commissioners for the purposes of comparison.

The Germans believe in the separation of prisoners and there is little or no association. In this country association is encouraged, particularly in honor prisons such as Great Meadow and the Billbird prison in the Philippines. There is much to learn in this country so far as prison management is concerned, but we have been successful in several of our prison experiments, and no doubt the German commission will receive considerable instruction in this country.

NOT FOR US.

We printed a picture on the front page of The Times the other day of a lovely girl of St. Louis. Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt had said that she was the handsomest thing in the United States. It only takes one vote to elect a woman a queen, providing that is the vote of the man who loves her and whom she loves. When it comes to being elected by another woman you would hardly call it unanimous, although it might be considered exceedingly magnanimous and quite exceptional. It sometimes happens that a woman says one woman is prettier than the one who says it knows that she is much prettier than the woman she says it about. We protest the election of any one girl as being the queen of American women, but we might accept a great many as being queens among American women. These beauty contests are all from the point of view. Many women who are not pretty are altogether lovely because they are of a pure and classic type. A woman may be tragic in her beauty and of most exceptional charm and still fall short of empty-headed, doll-like prettiness. Beauty is not a chin which is just so, lips that are of a particular curve, and a hair that is well dressed. In every woman of delicious interest beauty is something personal and distinctive, and every man knows it when he sees it for himself.

BETHLEHEM INSTITUTION.

The Times has received a number of furious letters from deluded women and others, attacking it for what it has published with regard to Dana W. Bartlett and the discredited Bethlehem Institution operated by him for a score of years.

Well, all The Times has published has been a record of public, official proceedings. Former Secretary Pearce of the institution made explicit charges of mismanagement and malversation before the Municipal Charities Commission, alleging that money contributed by charitable people supposedly for meals and lodging and baths for the poor had been worse than wasted, that "the poor" had to pay dearly for almost everything they got, that the institution was unsanitary and poorly kept, and that nobody could tell where the money went.

No defense to these charges was made before the body that heard them. The Municipal Charities Commission simply voted to wipe out Bethlehem Institution, the city to take over the plant; and the officers of the Bethlehem Institution also voted that the institution be wiped out in this manner. The Times published a record of these facts—that's all.

When, a few years ago, The Times ventured to criticize the management of "Bethlehem," after having sent a man to lodge there in the guise of a tramp, a delegation of clergymen called at The Times office and sought to reproach and discipline its editors and writers for having dared do such a thing. But the Pearce report and the action of the Municipal Charities Commission show that The Times did not go far enough in its exposure at that time. It is a good thing for those who really need real help that "Bethlehem," the Socialistic breeding-place of bugs and mischief, is to be wiped out.

THE DEATH OF MAYOR GAYNOR.

Brave, impulsive Mayor Gaynor died a martyr's death after all. Whatever one may think of his policies, politics or peculiarities, history records that he stuck to his duties through the perils of assassination and dynamiting and amid the plots of unscrupulous political enemies, under a crushing load of responsibilities, while battling with disease and with death often staring him in the face.

Mayor Gaynor was a strong, aggressive man, a fearless judge, a self-willed executive, a practical politician. Of his usefulness to his State and city there can be no doubt. Of course The Times has never admired his politics. While professedly anti-Tammany, he never did Tammany much hurt. His opponents have accused him of being unscrupulous as well as preternaturally clever. None has ventured to dispute his ability. Now that he has passed beyond the range of animosities, even his enemies will say gentler things of him and his character will be more fairly scanned.

There were giants, yes, in these latter days, and Mayor Gaynor was one of them—a great, a famous character. The effects of his death upon New York politics will be tremendous. The work he had in hand was colossal. Who will grasp it and carry it on?

It is such battles as Mayor Gaynor that push the world ahead, make Hercules achievement possible and invite the murderer's bullet. It may be that Gaynor did not always fight wisely, but he always fought well. Like all men of his type, he has been as severely condemned as he has been warmly lauded. He has performed mighty tasks at the cost of health and life, with dauntless pluck. Does it pay to "spend and be spent" in the public service, after the way of Mayor Gaynor? The answer must be "yes."

TO THE FOOT OF THE THRONE.

During the progress of the Murray Thaw case in Canada reference has been made to a possible "appeal to the King." If it were true that George V might be called upon to give a decision in this odorous legal fight loyal subjects might well exclaim, "God save the King." But George is safe. Should the Thaw case ever jump the Atlantic the King won't be bothered with it. His Majesty's solemn and solid Judicial Committee of the Privy Council will keep it so far from the royal personage that George won't even have to hold his nose.

When disgruntled persons in the various sections of the British Empire declare that they intend to carry their grievances "to the foot of the throne" they are indulging in picturesque but not strictly truthful language. They really mean that they will take their legal disputes to the last court of appeal for Britishers, which is the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

While the Judicial Committee has a most important part in the British governmental system, the Privy Council itself is a ponderous body of no special use. It is supposed to be the British sovereign's council of state and it is esteemed a high but not very onerous honor to be appointed to it. Not a few colonials who have declined knighthood have allowed their sovereign to appoint them to the Privy Council. They have found themselves in the company of great names, for the privy councilors include members of the royal family, the Premier and several of his Cabinet, archbishops, great officers of state, the Lord Chancellor, the Speaker of the House of Commons, the commander-in-chief of the army and other bigwigs.

Of this council the Judicial Committee really earns its salt. All legal appeals from the colonies come before it, and the men who compose it won their knightly spurs, not on fields of battle, but in the courts of law. This Judicial Committee has its headquarters in the historic Downing street, hard by the residence of the Prime Minister. Despite the fact that this is an empire's last court of appeal, it is probably the most democratic court under the Union Jack. The lords who compose the Judicial Committee wear neither gown nor wig. They have no bench to mount, but sit around a table in their morning suits as comfortably as the Pasadena City Commissioners.

If they feel bored because of the harangues of counsel they get up and stroll about the room or stand in front of the open fireplace with legs outstretched in traditional British fashion. The late Lord Hobhouse was a great one for walking about the chamber and he invariably had a bandana depending from the tail of his capacious coat.

Nearly all great cases which get into the law courts of the British colonies end before the Judicial Committee. When, recently, the Premier of British Columbia paraded that province, crying out to all and sundry that he would take "to the foot of the throne" a dispute with the Canadian government, the people knew what he meant. They didn't suppose that he was going to kneel on the cold flagstones in front of the gilded seat of the King; they knew that all he meant was that he would have the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council pass on the problem.

And when it comes to passing on problems, there's nothing in the British Empire that the Judicial Committee is not capable of tackling. Whether the case comes from Canada's key mountains or India's coral straits, or from Africa's darkest corner or the Australian bush, their learned lordships of the Judicial Committee will sit in judgment and hand out a decision which sounds as if they knew every angle of the dispute. If they are wrong, then all that the unsuccessful litigant can do is to offer up a prayer to heaven because, in British Empire legal conflicts, the lords of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council have absolutely the last word.

PERMITS FOR BEGGARS.

The establishment of a Municipal Charities Commission authorized to examine solicitors of alms, or beggars as they are sometimes called, and to issue permits only to worthy and meritorious persons may relieve housewives from the appeals of an I.W.W. who rings the front door bell and asks to see "the lady of the house" that he may relate to her a story of how misfortune pursued him, how the bank where his money was deposited failed, etc., etc., until now he is in need of lodging and food, and say nothing of tobacco and whisky.

If the gentleman has a permit from the Municipal Charities Commission he can laugh to scorn the request of the lady that he motor a lawn mower for an hour as a preliminary to a dinner. If he has no permit he can telephone for a myrmidon of the law to come and take him away. He will not, if he is a wise I.W.W., depart in a hurry, for he has enjoyed the hospitality of the County Jail, and he likes the entrees, the salads and the coffee which are served there.

If a noble beggar cannot procure a permit and dislikes jail fare he can try the Honolulu system, which consists of gathering flowers at midnight from accessible gardens, making them into bouquets and offering a bouquet with a bow as a present to a young lady who is walking, accompanied by a male escort. The girl thanks him and the young fellow makes a present of a coin to the flower vendor, and the Municipal Charities Commission will be baffled. They can prohibit begging and vending of lead pencils, but not donations of bouquets.

Section 4 of the proposed ordinance, which prohibits a fair, bazaar or concert for charitable purposes, unless a permit is obtained from the Municipal Charities Commission, but which exempts from its operations "established and recognized churches or other religious organizations already existing in the city of Los Angeles," may prove a fruitful source of misconception and dispute. Is a theosophical society—which teaches that man is a gyrating molecule starting from nowhere and never getting anywhere—a "recognized church"? Is a spiritual society—whose members congregate to publicly bob for ghosts—a religious organization? Will the Holy Rollers, after they have rolled in the highway, and the Holy Jumpers, after they have jumped over garbage barrels, be prohibited from passing a hat without first securing a license from the Municipal Charities Commission?

What shall be done with the solicitors for funds from a gullible public in the shape of subscriptions to our ethical, evangelistic, religious, mercenary, missionary, Progressive, one-cent contemporaries? Must they obtain permits or else be taken to the County Jail where Tobias can poke bottles of cocktails to them through the bars?

BOOKWALTER AND BEER.

Cleveland, O., has furnished a picturesque example of Socialism in action. Dr. Wilfred Bookwalter, red candidate for Mayor of that city, anxious to prove the sincerity of his position, offered free sandwiches and free beer to all good supporters who attended his outdoor meeting in the public square. Naturally he attracted a record crowd.

What true Socialist would refuse to wet his whistle in mugs of cold free lager? What Socialist, under such circumstances, would not come to cheer the doctor with his applause and himself with the doctor's good liquor? But was the speech of Bookwalter the main event? Alas, no! Beer, more beer, was the frantic cry of these free-born followers of the red flag, everyone a king in his own right.

For mark the event! The flood of words that Bookwalter poured forth was secondary to the froth of the foaming mugs. So when some zealous but very thirsty adherents of the doctrine of Fruehaime discovered that the keg was empty and their own throats still parched and dry with the dust of the streets, they turned wildly on their champion, the man of too many dry words and not enough wet words. But for the protection of the police this practical Socialist experimenter would have been torn in pieces.

Can you blame these Cleveland Socialists for their legitimate wrath? Is not "To every man according to his needs" the very crux and root of the Socialist creed? Consider the needs of these thirsty souls at the back of the crowd. Were they being treated according to the doctrine of their creed? To every man did not come the mug of cold, wet beer, though, as the keg grew emptier, their needs kept increasing horribly. Was this the equality for which they were fighting?

To every man according to his needs will be a practical policy when "man needs but little here below, nor needs that little long." Then there may be enough of everything to always go round. But so long as there is a bottom to the beer keg, many red communists are foredoomed to disappointment.

UNCLE WALT.

The Post Philosopher.

They come back from the mountains, the cooling springs and fountains, the woodland, shore and crag, and of the ways they wandered, and of the days they squandered they stand around and brag. "While folks at home were steaming we lay in comfort dreaming," thus boastfully they cry; "we sailed upon the waters, while you, with wishy-washy, pursued the pecky fly. We climbed the hills, where vision is had of views elysian, of fields and streamlets wet; we roamed in gay savannahs while you, with cheap bandanas, were mopping off the sweat. We strayed in pleasant meadows, we basked in soothing shadows, we bathed in waters sweet, we did our gallivanting while you at home were painting in forty kinds of heat." Thus speak the jays returning, to us, who have been burning, who have not ceased to broil, to us, who bore the burden, who stayed at home to girl on our armor and to toll. Their jawbones should cease wagging, and we should do the bragging, if bragging must be done; while they were idly straying, in pleasant places playing, we worked and earned the mon. Down to our tasks we buckled while gallivanders chuckled o'er two-cent fish they caught; we toiled while friends were fooling around the woods or tooting an imitation yacht.

THE IDEALISTIC SPINSTER.

BY MISS NEETA MARQUIS.

One of the most educating experiences in the world is to sit with a company of very young married women and listen to their dissertations on men. Heaven and earth contain no knowledge of the subject that is not there, done up in airtight packages with the great seal of Hymen affixed thereto.

"I used to enjoy the love scene in stories so much," says one dreamily, "until I had my own experience, and since then I can scarcely bear to read them, they come so far short of things as they really are."

Says another: "I read a story the other day by Miss So-and-So, whom I knew quite well. She could never have described the proposal as she did if she had ever been engaged herself." And she assumes a consciously inscrutable expression.

This is the place to smile, if you happen to know that particular husband. Also that particular author.

The difficulty with the very young matron is arrested development of the imagination. She has stopped thinking for herself temporarily. Her dictum to all the world is, "Thus saith George, my husband." And because it would be temperamentally impossible for George to propose after the fashion of the man in the story, ergo it is impossible that any man should so propose.

As a matter of fact, any nice, attractive, keen-witted girl who has enjoyed the average amount of masculine attention without yet marrying any of it and who has served an apprenticeship at picking up wet towels and burnt matches along the trail of a pair of the average brothers is in a rather better position to pronounce judgment upon men in general than the very young matron who has embraced her first opportunity in the matrimonial way and settled down to a life study of an individual instead of a species.

It is not at all necessary to plant and raise rose bushes by hand in order to know conclusively that roses are beautiful and thorns are cruel and ugly.

If one is of an inquiring and experimental turn of mind an excellent way by which to make the two-compartment newlywed rage and imagine a vain thing is casually to state the well-authenticated fact that the average husband is married to the girl of his third choice. This is warranted to give the conversation a decidedly effervescent quality.

The older matron takes a thing like this with greater calmness, for, with the wisdom of years and the mellowing influence of experience, she realizes that the average man is not a high-spirited personality. She even grants that Kipling was not all cynicism when he attributed the vast majority of marriages either to money or procreancy.

It is most often propinquity which does the work, in youth, when the season first opens. And if the first glimpse of matrimony leads into the foreground of a man's fancy has plans and notions of her own which take temporary precedence of matrimony, there is always plenty more propinquity, and there's always another girl.

Happily for the race, and for men and women themselves, the habit of mankind is constructed upon a comfortably philosophical basis when it comes to marriage. Else the world would be all cluttered up with broken hearts and unrequited affection.

At a conference of women some years ago a famous woman lecturer was scheduled to address the assembly on "The Reasons Why I Never Married." She stated as her first reason that she had never been asked, and her audience refused to listen to the other eight on the claim that they were irrelevant and immaterial.

This represents the attitude society has ever taken toward the spinster. She is an odd, stray, overlooked little thing whom no man has ever seen fit to court. It is tacitly assumed that there must be something lacking about her, else she would have made a place for herself in the matrimonial ranks. Your really efficient, capable woman can make a place for herself for herself there as well as anywhere else. Even in this enlightened age we all shake our heads wonderingly at the attractive and yet unmarried and say:

"I wonder why? She seems like a nice girl."

The world is slow to recognize the changes that have come about in its own order of things. It is particularly slow to outgrow the Elizabethan attitude toward the unwed. It is still quick with the hackneyed sarcasm, and none is more quick than the just-married matron, secure in her new dignity and ready to handle the reins of social government.

That the modern woman of brains and superior cultivation is the most highly specialized creature in the universe is a fact that finds difficulty in impressing the average mind; and because she is so highly specialized, either with or against her will, she is spiritually worlds from casual commonplace, ordinary marriage life.

That is why so many of the most charming, well-rounded and admirable women in public and social life today are unmarried. Civilization has advanced them to a point where they can content themselves with nothing less than the best, in love and in life. Whether this is a happy, satisfying or desirable state is quite another question. It probably will never be that until society at large has caught up with the vanguard.

In the meantime the brilliant spinster continues to supply the market with a large share of the prettiest love stories extant, which charm all but the very new matron. But perhaps her very ability along this line arises from the fact that, with her, ideality is wholly unmarred by "rude shocks of experience."

It should be said for the fair sex's losses, and a widower shouldn't be too hard on him about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Chandler, who went north a fortnight ago to join Mr. and Mrs. Henry McLean, who are returning from an enjoyable sojourn at Lake Tahoe, will make the trip from San Francisco to this city with the Henry McLean in their new Packard machine. The journey home will be most delightful with stops at Del Monte and Santa Barbara. The travelers will arrive about the middle of next week.

Miss Walsh Home.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walsh, their beautiful daughter, Miss Virginia, who has just returned from an extended trip abroad and eastern tour, and their son, Orville, are occupying a suite at the Bryson. They have closed their beautiful home on Harvard boulevard and will be permanently at home to friends at their new place of residence from now on.

Wedding Announcement.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward King Isaac, of No. 4806 Hawthorne avenue, Hollywood, have issued announcements of the marriage on last Friday of their daughter, Mildred Ferns, to J. Raymond Banks. The marriage was private, only the parents and close relatives being present. The young married couple are now in their new bungalow, at No. 3433 Atwater avenue, where they will be at home to their friends after October 1.

Settled for Winter.—Among the charming visitors to the city is Mrs. Ashley Pond, Jr., accompanied by her daughter, Miss Margaret, and son, Ashley Pond, III. They have come to pass the winter in Los Angeles, and are domiciled at the Kennington, where Mrs. Pond's summer has been passed in the mountains of New Mexico, near Roswell.

At the Kennington.—Mrs. Teresa Troconis, widow of Julian Troconis, has returned from the mountains and is domiciled at the Kennington, where she will be at home to friends.

To Give Butterfly Dance.—Members of the Wednesday Morning Club will give a butterfly dance this evening at their clubhouse. The committee in charge includes Miss Florence James, Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. M. E. Johnson, Mrs. Phil Utter, Mrs. M. Tiley, and Mrs. W. E. Tribit. Cards will be arranged for those not wishing to dance.

To Visit Sister.—Mrs. H. D. Rockefeller has gone to Chicago to visit her sister. She came from that city last winter for a few weeks' sojourn in Los Angeles, but becoming much entranced with the climate, she decided to make her permanent home at the Bryson and has remained there ever since. She will return in about two months.

At Beverly Hills.—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Chandler and W. G. Chandler, Jr., have closed their home in Los Angeles and are spending the winter at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Eichorn, Mrs. D. Ecklund, Miss T. Sommer, and Messrs. Robert Sommer, J. Ecklund and Allen Ecklund, were entertained at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. George J. Birke at the Beverly Hills Hotel one evening recently.

OLIVER MOROSCO TINKERS WITH LITTLE HELP WANTED

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

JUST as it is up to the chef to put the last touches to the delectable viands for which he is responsible, so Oliver Morosco, fresh back from his triumph in the East, is doing what none of the rest dared to do—revamping the last act of "Help Wanted."

It has been generally conceded that this was the one weak spot in the play, but neither Franklin Underwood nor Charley Hyton cared to shoulder the responsibility of the attempted improvement. In new form "Help Wanted" ought to be one of the biggest hits of the season.

Doubtless you will recall the last mention I made of Dick Ferrie. It was that never-to-be-forgotten party he gave. Now he is in Omaha, and from there I received a package of newspaper clippings that are a scream.

One spreads for a page on how Dick was president of Lower California for a few moments while another chronicles the success of Florence

Stone at the Boyd. But as usual, every communication ends up with "Oh, you Los Angeles!" which only goes to show that Dick is getting homesick again.

PHI BETA KAPPA GRANTED POMONA

ONLY FOUR INSTITUTIONS WEST OF ROCKIES SO HONORED.

Application, Presented Last April and Indorsed by California, Stanford, Cornell, Colorado, Grinnell and Oberlin, Ratified by Council Sitting in New York.

Pomona College has been granted a chapter in the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity.

Immediately on receipt of word to this effect yesterday, preparations were at once made to organize the Pomona chapter of this historic old honor-scholarship fraternity.

Pomona is one of but four institutions west of the Rockies fortunate enough to have been granted chapters, the others being the University of California, Stanford and the University of Washington.

Application for the chapter, presented to the Senate of Phi Beta Kappa last April, was indorsed by California, Stanford, Cornell, Colorado, Grinnell and Oberlin.

The application was ratified by the Phi Beta Kappa Council in New York Wednesday.

Pomona has ten men on its faculty, and one man who is recognized as the father of the college, Dr. C. B. Sumner, who are already members of the fraternity and who will constitute the chapter.

They are: President J. A. Blaisdell, Beloit; Dr. Sumner, Yale; Dean E. C. Norton, Amherst; Prof. F. B. Brackley, Dartmouth; Prof. D. H. Colcord, Amherst; Dr. James A. Lyman, Beloit; Charles G. Stearns, Yale; Prof. Mark B. Jones, Boston University.

A number of graduates of Pomona will be eligible for membership.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded at the beginning of the Revolutionary War, December 5, 1776, in Williams and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va. It is non-sectarian and purely honorary in character, admitting to membership a restricted number of scholars of highest standing in each graduating class.

TOURNAMENT HEAD NAMED.

Pasadenan Will Receive Salary for Services.

Rock Crusher Agitation Refuses to Be Drowned.

An Egg Famine Sends Prices Shooting Skyward.

PASADENA, Sept. 12.—J. Bertoneau, secretary of the Board of Trade, and who is the weather observer in Pasadena, was appointed to succeed Bertoneau as secretary.

The resignation of Bertoneau was accepted and the appointment of Bertoneau as secretary of the board of directors of the organization, held yesterday morning. No one has yet been appointed to succeed Bertoneau as assistant secretary.

Bertoneau will take up the work of preparing for the next Tournament of Roses immediately. There is much to do.

Next year's tournament is to be larger and better than any that have ever been held in the city. One of the new features, and probably a feature of the succeeding ones, will be the participation in the parade of marching clubs in brilliant uniforms.

TO MOVE AWAY.

Declaring that the noise is detrimental to his wife's health, and that it is his intention to leave his home until the nuisance is abated, Theodore E. Wainwright appeared before the City Commissioners and asked that they either compel the owners of the rock crushers in the Arroyo Seco to move them to a new position or else adopt the use of machinery that will not make so much noise. His house is at the edge of the arroyo and he had a double grievance. He said they rented the horse near Los Angeles. Probation Officer Scott has taken the boys to Los Angeles.

EGGS ARE SCARCE.

That there is practically an egg famine in Pasadena, that it is almost impossible to procure fresh eggs, and that while the price has soared to 48 cents a dozen the grocers are not the ones who are reaping the benefit, was the declaration of John Brown, assistant manager of one of the large grocery stores here, yesterday.

"I believe that fresh eggs can be had," he said. "Both butter and eggs are higher in price for this time of the year than they have been in years. Grocers cannot make enough money even at such high prices to pay for the handling of butter and eggs. Grocers do not benefit by the high prices."

LECTURES ARE PLANNED.

Superintendent of Schools Rhodes announced yesterday that more attention will be paid this winter than ever before in the schools to having the pupils come to a decision as to what vocation they expect to take up and prepare themselves especially for it. This, he hopes to accomplish largely through the course of lectures by business, professional and other residents of the city, who will come before the children and tell them in their own words, accompanied by their parents, an intimate knowledge of it can be gained in that way that is not easily imparted by text-books, Superintendent Rhodes declared.

CITY BRIEFS.

Word was received here yesterday that Mrs. Sarah L. Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Burton of No. 895 Cypress avenue, was drowned at Portland, Or. The telegram did not state the details of the manner of her death.

E. R. Sover, secretary of the Board of Trade, accompanied by his wife and parents, will leave today for a two-weeks' vacation, which the party will spend in the Sequoia forest.

Mrs. Officer Charles E. Kelly was hailed before Justice of the Peace yesterday and fined $1 for violation of the traffic ordinance. He was leaving their automobile longer in one place on the business streets than the law permits.

Robles avenue returned home yesterday from Labrador, where he spent the summer with Sir Wilfred Grenfell. Hibben was accompanied by Thaddeus Lowe, who will also soon return to Pasadena.

YOUTHFUL ADVENTURERS.

SANTA ANA (Cal.) Sept. 11.—Four youthful Los Angeles adventurers, 16 to 18 years old, were captured here this morning by Deputy Sheriff Dean while on an expedition to the Mexican border. The prisoners are Max Haberman, No. 4134 Figueroa street; Felix Rado, Fifty-sixth and Central avenue; Harry Hensley, Fifty-third street and Wadsworth avenue; and Israel Hershon, Hensley's neighbor. The boys, in a single-seated rig, were driving a horse jaded by a long drive. They said they rented the horse near Los Angeles. Probation Officer Scott has taken the boys to Los Angeles.

WALLACE ARRIVES.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 11.—(By A. P. Night Wire.) Lieut. Gov. A. J. Wallace arrived on this evening's train from the north. He comes as the representative of Gov. Johnson, and will tomorrow lay the cornerstone of the State building to be erected on the Panama-California Exposition grounds. An elaborate programme of ceremonies has been arranged for the occasion.

PIER PROPOSED FOR LONG BEACH.

Bakersfield Man Offers Attractive Proposition.

Bankers Send Warning Note to the Council.

Demented Chinaman Proves a Puzzle to Police.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 11.—E. R. Campbell, an oil man of Bakersfield who lives here and has property interests on the beach and who last night was granted a franchise for a pier at the foot of Chestnut avenue on the outer end of which he will construct a modern theater, has made a proposition to the city, which, if accepted, will end a long-drawn-out controversy relative to the tide-line dispute between the city and the Strand company.

The disputed territory joins Campbell's pier on the east, and part of it is in front of his Boston theater property. He has secured an option from the Strand company on the tide-land accretions claimed by the Strand people, the option being subject to one held by the bath-house company and offered to the city in connection with the offer to sell the bath-house holdings to the municipality. This will give Campbell a piece of land 500 feet long and fifty-three feet wide, which he can utilize commercially for storehouses or concessions with an entrance from the arched walk, which the city will hereafter have to care for. In return for this donation Campbell asks the city for a lease of the water front on which to build a pier the entire width and 600 feet out into the ocean on which will be developed amusement enterprises of all sorts. For this floor space of 340,000 square feet he asks a lease of thirty-five years and will pay to the city annually $1500 rental and 2 percent of the gross receipts.

The Council at first glance favored the proposition, but has referred the matter to the Franchise and Lease Committee, the Board of Public Works and the City Attorney to make a recommendation. The City Attorney claims that under the charter Campbell must apply for a franchise, which must be advertised for sale, but the promoter's attorney, realizing that such a method might jeopardize Campbell's rights, insists that a franchise is not necessary.

BANKERS' WARNING.

The presidents and cashiers of the six national, State and savings banks last night sent a note of warning to the City Council suggesting "that owing to the combination of circumstances not necessary to recount, but chief of which is a very exceptional condition of the bond market as plainly indicated in all financial centers, the series of bond elections now pending would better be recalled and the whole subject of municipal needs involved be calmly considered under favorable conditions of a later date."

H. R. Callahan, a bank official, who presented the warning, told the Council that the bond market was stagnant and that it would be an impossibility to sell any bond issues for at least six months, except at a loss under existing conditions, which would be a serious matter to the city. He also hinted at an organized opposition to the pending issues, the defeat of which would unfavorably affect the $175,000 sewer and incinerator issues, already voted and now being offered for sale. He advised a halt in proceedings in order to save to the city the expense of holding the elections, which he was convinced would be of no use. Acting on the suggestion of the City Attorney, that it was too late to recall the election and that he could find no precedent for such action, the Council turned down the warning of the big financial institutions of the city.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Dr. Merriam today notified the police that John Fletcher, an aged pioneer of Pomona, who is spending the summer in Long Beach, had disappeared and asked that inquiry be started to locate him. Fletcher, who is 65 years of age, left his rooms on Broadway yesterday morning and has not been seen since. His personal belongings are intact. He is described as having a full beard, with gray hair. His left leg is shorter than the right, and he walks with a cane.

NEW BOULEVARD PLANNED.

Superior Waves Aside a Dry Martini and Offers Hope for Action to Venice.

VENICE, Sept. 11.—A new boulevard from Los Angeles to Venice, almost as straight as the crow flies, which will relieve the Washington road congestion, was planned at a banquet of city and county officials and prominent men of Venice and Los Angeles at the Ship cafe last night. Supervisor W. E. Hineshaw was the guest of honor. Hineshaw came from Long Beach, and he frowned away the cocktail which his host, a Venetian, hinted was a specialty at "the Ship."

Aid was promised by the Supervisor to the project of continuing the Short Line boulevard from Palms to Pico street, at Vineyard, making a direct route to the sea. Rights of way will be purchased, and the county will let the work as soon as possible.

While the rest of the party were at camped, Marceux and Traxler discovered the pool. They anticipated the delight of a swim, disrobed, and were soon splashing and shouting. Their hair arose and they were seized with sudden fright when they saw three ranchers running in the direction, one armed with a rifle. They stopped not to adorn their persons, not finding a handy towel, but ran for the nearest brush, hastily and partially robed, and ran for their auto. They quickly explained to the rest of the party the urgent need for speed, and road records were broken in the vicinity in escaping the ranchers, who adjudged a helious crime "to bathe in a stream used for irrigation."

THE JOY OF COMING MOTHERHOOD.

A Wonderful Remedy That is a Natural Aid and Relieves the Tension.

Mother's Friend is the only remedy known that is able to reach all the different parts involved. It is a penetrating external application after the formula of a noted family doctor, and lubricates every muscle, nerve, tissue or tendon involved. By its daily use there will be no pain, no distress, no nausea, no danger of laceration or other accident, and the mother will be in supreme comfort and joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is one of the greatest of all helpful influences, for it robs childbirth of all its agonies and dangers, dispels all the doubt and dread, all sense of fear, and thus enables the mind and body to wait the greatest event in a woman's life with untrammelled gladness.

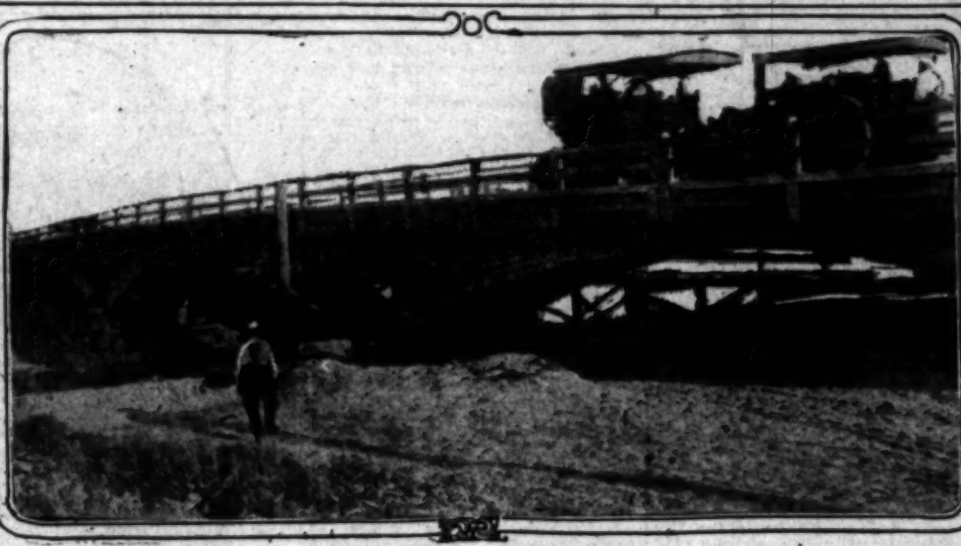

You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, or the druggist will gladly get it for you. Mother's Friend is prepared only by the Bradford Regulator Co., 237 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who will mail an instructive book to expectant mothers. Write for it today.

Orange county recently completed the bridge shown above, but rumors to the effect that it was unsafe caused a boycott by the public. Eighty-seven tons of matter placed on the structure yesterday removed all doubt.

ONE COUNCILMAN DESIRES RECALL.

A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES: SAN DIEGO, Sept. 11.—Councilman O. M. Schmidt today informed the attorney for the persons who are moving for the recall of Mayor O'Neill and Councilman Manney that it was his (Schmidt's) wish that he be included in the recall petition.

"If the people," said Schmidt, "wish to recall those men, I want to be recalled, as I don't care to serve a people that objects to the service being performed by the Mayor and Councilman Manney."

The attorney informed Mr. Schmidt that his request would be made known to those behind the recall movement.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Edward Golding, former police detective, recently dismissed, proved his ability last night when he captured Arthur Belmont as he was emerging from the Wavercrest apartments late last night. Belmont was taken to jail and charged with burglary of a room in a house on Innes place. A revolver, part of the loot said to have been taken, was found in Belmont's room.

H. W. Marcoux, and Arthur Traxler, who, with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Emery and Mrs. Nell Lunkin, returned today from an auto trip to the country around Corona, were hunted out of the San Bernardino Valley yesterday, they say, by indignant ranchers, but ran for the nearest brush, hastily and partially robed, and ran for their auto. They quickly explained to the rest of the party the urgent need for speed, and road records were broken in the vicinity in escaping the ranchers, who adjudged a helious crime "to bathe in a stream used for irrigation."

San Bernardino Has Many of School Children.

The public schools of the county, with possibly one or two exceptions, will open next Monday morning, the earlier opening date being the result of the lengthening of the school year by a half month. The result of the closing of the county schoolhouses, many of them in some structures.

This city is facing a serious problem in the matter of school children, owing to the rapid increase in the population and the number of children. Several additional buildings have been made to the city building, and temporary quarters have been provided for some of the children. A shipment of 11,500 books has been received from the State of California, and the city is now in a position to supply the children with books.

MEXICAN SUSPECTED OF ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN.

Railroad Tie and Stones Placed on Track Near Beverly Menaced the Lives of a Score of Passengers. Other Efforts Have Been Made of Similar Character.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 11.—Determined to put an end to the recent attempts to wreck Pacific Electric trains on this division, railroad secret service men headed by Detective Churchill, and aided by the local police, scoured the country between Santa Monica and Beverly today in search of a Mexican in dark overalls whom they suspect of the deed. Two weeks ago a like attempt was made to wreck a short line train.

A railroad tie, backed up by a number of heavy stones, was placed on the rails of the Santa Monica-Santa Ana line just before 11:30 last night. The spot chosen by the wreckers was a dangerous one. The high bridge over the ravine just west of the country club golf course, where there is a descent of thirty feet. Had not the watchful motor-man of the train reaching here shortly after midnight seen the obstruction in time and applied the emergency brakes, the car, loaded with passengers, would have hurtled to the ravine below. The car crew hurriedly removed the tie, ran to Bartlett and called up the detectives of the company.

The conductor of a car proceeding to Los Angeles just before the obstruction was placed upon the track saw a Mexican in dark clothes, presumably overalls, near the trestle, watching the car and crew intently. This circumstance was reported today by the conductor when he heard of the dastardly attempt at wrecking. Proceeding to this information, Churchill and his men vainly searched the Mexican quarters in Bartlett, Santa Monica, and Venice, and the working camps nearby.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Postmaster Vawter was today notified by Inspector Ranger, of the postal service, that he would recommend a day for taking of the census for this city, free delivery for Ocean Park and Venice, and the establishment of a substation at Ocean Park. Vawter vainly endeavored to get substations at Twentieth street and Santa Monica Canyon for this city, and daily mail service to Pompano Canyon.

C. W. Brashore was granted a permit today to establish a work camp on Fifteenth street, near Colorado avenue. He has secured the contract from the Pacific Electric for the paving of the space between and immediately around the tracks on Santa Monica boulevard, a work that will be begun immediately. From Fourth street to the Bartlett limits, a stretch nearly three miles in length, will be paved with light asphalt. The railroad will lay a heavier rail and will put down new ties on this stretch.

William T. Vernon, colored, former register of the treasury and now head of the Colored College in Mississippi, and Mrs. Vernon, were guests today of Mrs. S. A. Wright, who resides at No. 1228 Sixth street. Vernon is in Southern California on two weeks' vacation. Mrs. Wright is an old friend of the wife of the former government official.

Free State text books will not arrive in time for the opening of the Santa Monica schools, according to information received today from State Superintendent Hyatt. He advises patience and the use as far as possible of the old text books until the State primary grounds out enough volumes to go around.

ALLEGED ROBBER CAUGHT.

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Eduardo Carroll, charged with robbing a restaurant at No. 414 North Main street, Los Angeles, of $200 a week or so ago, was arrested here tonight by Police Captain Sam Kelly and lodged in jail. Carroll will be taken to Los Angeles tomorrow.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Board of Public Works was notified yesterday that a movement had been started for the heavily interested property owners, on Sunset boulevard, to purchase the Hammond Act bonds for improvement of that street from Main to Marion, so that work can be carried on under the original proceedings.

Complaints against the Florence Crittenton Home were heard by a Council committee yesterday, but it is likely that the home will be allowed to operate on Sunset street, despite the charges that it is a nuisance and deprecates the value of property.

The Public Works Committee gave a hearing yesterday on the subject of the proposed Fourth-street viaduct, and the general scheme for elimination of grade crossings, and immediate movement of the bridge over the tracks to raise its tracks on Alameda street were brought into the discussion.

The statement of Market Superintendent O'Brien filed yesterday for the month of August shows that the ten public markets are practically self-supporting.

Consent was announced yesterday that he will try to get the Council to rescind its action on requiring a sixty-foot paved strip through Mission road and have the width cut down to twenty feet. County Supervisors are urging immediate pavement so as to give a good street to the County Hospital.

At the City Hall.

MAY BUY BONDS TO HASTEN WORK.

PROPERTY OWNERS ANXIOUS FOR BOULEVARD PAVING.

Have Scheme Under Way to Secure Funds for Change of Grade and Completion of This Highway from Main to Marion Streets Under the Original Proceedings.

Developments at the City Hall yesterday indicate that property owners who are especially interested in the carrying through of the improvement of Sunset boulevard, from Main to Marion streets, may themselves purchase the bonds for this improvement issued under Hammond Act proceedings, in order that the work may be started with the least possible delay.

Several of the larger property owners have taken up the matter and the Board of Public Works was advised yesterday that this action will be taken, if possible.

This improvement proceeding provides for the lowering of the grade through three hills on the street and the repaving of the street so as to make a direct connection with paved highways on each end. Like many other Hammond Act proceedings, delays have occurred for many months, because of there being no money to purchase the bonds.

Recently the Barker Asphalt Company sent to the Board of Public Works its consent to the abandonment of the proceeding, thereby waiving its contract rights, and this cleared the way to begin new proceedings under the amended street law.

But the objection to this is that it will again open up the whole subject and allow the filing of new demands for damages to such extent that the new proceedings might be protested out.

Under the original proceedings there have been filed demands for damages amounting to $101,000. Commissioner Handley stated at yesterday's board meeting that in his opinion not more than $10,000 of these claims should be allowed. Should the case be reopened, it is probable that damage claims amounting to many additional thousands of dollars would be filed.

The cost of the proposed improvement, exclusive of the payment for damages, will be about $150,000. It is desired to have the street completed before the heavy rains arrive, and definite steps toward the purchase of the bonds will be taken during the ensuing week.

CRITTENTON HOME.

In all probability the Florence Crittenton Home, located at No. 1812 Sunset street, will be allowed to continue its humanitarian work at that location, despite the protests of adjoining property owners, so far as the City Council is concerned.

The protesters were given a hearing at a meeting yesterday of the Public Health and Sanitation Committee of the Council, and they were out in full force. Their complaints are that the crying of babies is very annoying, while the cries and groans of girls in distress is nerve-racking and that certain inmates of the refuge flirt with passers-by and create conditions that entice undesirable males to the neighborhood. The protesters declare that the institution deprecates the value of their adjoining properties and that they must have relief or move out of the neighborhood.

Some of these allegations were strenuously denied by those appearing in behalf of the institution. Among these representatives were Mrs. F. M. Freeman, superintendent of the home; Mrs. Frank Stoddard, president of the board of managers; Dr. W. A. Lamb, Dr. Charles F. Miller and John S. Mitchell, of the board of trustees.

Those who are particularly interested in the home stated that the purpose of the institution has been misrepresented, and that its use is to care for unfortunate girls and their babies. They declare that they are filling a need that no other institution supplies and that they are doing the best they can with the facilities available.

They stated that they would gladly secure a new location for the institution in a district outside the closely settled portion of the city were the funds available, but that to be compelled to remove at present would mean an abandonment of the work; that they have a fund accumulating for this purpose, but will lose their property now occupied should it not be used for the purpose to which it is now devoted.

VIADUCT HEARING.

Los Angeles today needs a solution of the grade-crossing problem more than it needs a new depot, declared Maria Bekins, member of the Board of Public Utilities Commission, before the Public Works Committee of the City Council, at a hearing on the proposed new Fourth-street viaduct.

to span the railroad tracks and the Los Angeles River.

Bekins insisted that in any plans being made for the viaduct the greater plan of elevation of railroad tracks to the new depot must not be lost sight of.

A strong delegation, headed by ex-Mayor W. H. Workman, urged the necessity of the viaduct, which the City Engineer estimated will cost $1,000,000, including damages awarded, about $1,000,000. The argument was put forward that such a viaduct would give the entire Boyle Heights district access to the business section of the city without interference by railroad crossings.

As a strong movement is on foot urging that the Southern Pacific be compelled to raise its tracks on Alameda street, from the Los Angeles River to Ninth street, as part of a comprehensive plan for elimination of grade crossings throughout the city, it was pointed out that should such a plan be accomplished it would be necessary to have the proposed viaduct raised over these elevated tracks, and the grade for approach would be excessive unless the scheme were carried through with Main street as the western terminal. The excessive cost of such a scheme would render it out of the question at this time, thought some of those present.

Commissioner Bekins urged that the greater plan for relief of the entire city by elimination of grade crossings should have first consideration and that a general plan for this should be worked out.

Many opinions were expressed but no definite conclusion was reached and the committee will further consider the viaduct problem next week.

PUBLIC MARKETS.

MAKE GOOD SHOWING.

Frank O'Brien, superintendent of public markets, filed yesterday a report to the City Council on the financial situation of the municipal markets department for the month of August.

This shows that the ten public markets are practically self-supporting. The total expenditures for the month were $492.64. Of this there was required an outlay for the opening of new markets. The receipts amounted to $444.55, but the outlay for equipment, amounting to $114.52, shows that the markets are practically carrying their expenses.

The new markets opened during the month are located at Spence and Stephenson, Marmon Way, between Avenue 17 and 18, and Central and Jefferson, and West Forty-eighth and Vermont avenues.

During August there were 3246 vendors in attendance at the ten markets, an increase of 100 over the month of July.

Applies to Los Angeles.

The State Board of Health yesterday sent to the City Clerk the following resolution, adopted August 2:

"That the city of Los Angeles be notified that an amendment extending the provisions of the sewage disposal law to bodies of salt water becomes effective August 10, and that the report of the board consulting engineer indicates that this new law will apply to that city."

This indicates that the State Board of Health will insist upon the city making changes at the outfall sewer's mouth at Hyperion Beach to do away with all sewage in the ocean.

Advices Received. William Morton, acting chief engineer of the Bureau of Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph, recommended to the City Council yesterday that immediate steps be taken to plan for the removal of the system from the City Hall to the new building at 1812 Sunset street, where quarters were provided for it when the building was constructed. He asks that the building be vacated by the City Council for the necessary apparatus in the new quarters and that the change be made as soon as possible.

Morton says that because of the great increase of territory that requires fire protection and the police signal service it is necessary to have ample quarters before there is more outlay. Fire Chief Eley has asked the Council to provide for the installation of thirty-five alarm boxes in the University district and forty in the Hollywood district. The Council will have the subject before it this morning.

Efficiency Bureau Room.

A conference was held yesterday between the City Auditor, F. M. Dee, secretary of the Civil Service Commission, Councilmen Casswell and Langdon and Mr. Langmuir, an efficiency expert, on the subject of getting under way the city's proposed Efficiency Bureau. An appropriation of $10,000 has been made in the budget this year for this bureau, and the ordinance providing for its creation is now in the hands of the City Attorney. It may be presented to the Council this week, as those participating in the conference decided that the bureau should be established as soon as possible.

Paving of Mission Road.

President Whitaker of the City Council will ask that body to rescind its action in ordering the paving of a width of sixty feet in Mission road to connect with the county highway system. He will ask that the width be changed to twenty feet in width, the same as the county highway.

This was the recommendation of the Board of Public Works, as its members considered that the wider paving is not justified by the traffic on Mission road and the cost would be too great a burden for property of the character of that along the street. There are but few residences on this stretch of the road, and but little prospect of its being developed for some time ahead.

The Council, however, insisted upon the sixty-foot paved highway and this order was sent to the City Engineer. It now develops that the proceedings are likely to be protested out. The County Supervisors are very anxious to have the city pave the roadway, as it is used constantly in carrying patients to the County Hospital, and that board yesterday indicated to President Whitaker that it would demand the paving expense for favors asked of it by the city.

As a protest on the wider paving would delay the work for at least six months, Whitaker will urge the Council to consent to the twenty-foot width.

HOLDS NO MALICE.

Ex-Collector Pendleton, who made a friendly call upon John B. Elliott, his successor, yesterday, said he had no malice in his heart against anybody for his removal. He recognized the act as one of the exigencies of politics, he said, and had no bitterness against Senator Oakes, who, it is understood applied the political boot. "I do not blame Senator Oakes," said the ex-collector, "but I have come to understand the situation better." It is understood that the ex-collector will resume the practice of law, in the Douglas building, soon.

WORD BROKEN; CONTEST WILL.

FORTUNE LEFT TO SISTER ON STIPULATION.

Former Owner of Nadeau Hotel Agreed to Provide for Her on the Understanding that on Her Death The Money Reverted to the Estate. Widow Fights.

The contest of the will of Florence Nadeau, filed yesterday in the probate court, revealed through voluminous correspondence the close affection between brother and sister and, apparently a broken promise.

The story covers a score of years, showing Horace W. Chase's endeavor to provide for his sister, an invalid residing at Bangor, Me.

Chase, who formerly conducted the Nadeau Hotel and accumulated an estate estimated to be worth $200,000, corresponded with his invalid sister and the letters were read in court. In the summer of 1911 Chase wrote his sister, agreeing to make provision for her after his death, with the understanding that she was to be his heir. In 1904, Chase promised his sister, agreeing to make provision for her after his death, with the understanding that she was to be his heir. In 1904, Chase promised his sister, agreeing to make provision for her after his death, with the understanding that she was to be his heir.

Chase died June 8, 1911, and Miss Chase passed away April 4, 1912. The will of Miss Chase had been probated in Maine.

Steps were at once taken here to oppose the will. Suit was brought by Nellie Chase, the widow, Ernest W. Chase, the son, and Mabel K. Chase Stevens and Paul Stewart, beneficiaries, under Miss Chase's will. The battle was fought yesterday. At the conclusion of argument Judge Finlayson took the matter under submission.

ENDS NIL.

NEIGHBORHOOD SQUABBLE.

A neighborhood row which brought a dozen women into court, required the services of two lawyers, the testimony of twelve witnesses, and the attendance of the probation officer, aired in the Juvenile Court yesterday came to naught.

The three small children of Mrs. Al. M. Mason of East Forty-seventh street, Vivian, Vera and Valveta, were charged with having used profane language and pulling up the flowers of Mrs. Madison's neighbor. The complaining witness was Mrs. Edna Nelson.

JUDGE TAFT DISMISSED THE CASE.

DISMAL END.

FAILURE TO PROVIDE CHARGE.

The marriage of T. N. Hanson, a real estate broker of this city, to the daughter of a prominent railroad man at Chicago, Ill., ended in a dismal failure. Yesterday Hanson was bound over to the Superior Court by Judge York in $1000 bonds to answer a charge of bigamy.

Hanson testified that his wife left him and that he asked her to come back. His mother said she recalled that he had been married in Chicago. She admitted that Hanson had quarreled on numerous occasions.

ENDS WAR.

MINERAL LAND SUIT.

F. H. Allen and others who sought to locate a mineral claim on valuable property in the Wilshire district were perpetually enjoined yesterday from going on the land.

This ends a war of several years' standing. Allen had entered on the land, it was alleged, and endeavored to drill for oil. The court granted a temporary injunction pending the trial of the suit by the Title Guaranty and Trust Company for a perpetual injunction.

JUDGE FINLAYSON SAID HE WAS SATISFIED UNDER THE TERMS OF THE PATENT THAT THE LAND MUST HAVE BEEN KNOWN TO BE MINERAL BEFORE THE ISSUANCE OF THE PATENT.

ASSESSMENT SUIT.

MINORITY THE OPPOSITION.

An assessment of 50 per cent. on the stock of the Los Angeles Auto and Taxicab Company is the basis of a suit filed before Judge York. The minority stockholders brought the suit against the company for the purpose of declaring the assessment invalid.

The plaintiffs are Belle F. Lewis, Charles M. Lewis, Evelyn H. Jones and Harry E. Jones. They are represented by Attorney Ridgway. Attorney Salisbury is counsel for the company.

WITNESS NOT MISSING.

SHE HAD JUST MOVED.

If Judge York can secure an outside judge willing to sit in the trial of George H. Bixby, charged with contributing to the delinquency of several young women, the case will begin this morning in Extra Session No. 5, on the eighth floor of the Hall of Records. If a near-by judge is not available, it may be necessary to secure Judge Cahanjian or Judge Connelley from the north.

Deputy District Attorney Keyes, who will try the case for the State, stated yesterday that his case is prepared. He said all his witnesses are accounted for, including the alleged "missing" Esther Cochran, who had merely moved her apartment because of visits from supposed detectives.

The case did not start yesterday because Judge Oster of San Bernardino, who was to try the case, was opposed to him. He is the judge who sentenced Mrs. Emma Goodman, alias Josie Rosenberg, to a year in the County Jail, and ordered her to pay a fine of $1000. The alleged acts complained of are said to have taken place at Mrs. Goodman's former apartment, called the Jonquil.

LeCompte Davis, who was counsel for the woman, is associated in the defense of Bixby with Oakes Lawler. They estimate the trial will consume about a week.

Both lawyers entered into a stipulation with Judge York to abide by his choice of a judge to sit in place of Judge Oster.

There are about eight witnesses for the State, mostly women more or less connected with the underworld. The defense has not outlined its plans.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

NOT REPRESENTED.

The Salt Lake Railroad was not represented at the trial of the $52,767 damage suit brought by Richard H. Stanton in Judge York's court yesterday. Stanton and a physician testified as to the extent of the injuries the former alleges he received while employed as a car repairer for the company. He says another employee threw a timber from the car, that the timber struck him, permanently disabling his shoulder, arm and wrist on the right side, and impairing his hearing. Judge York continued the case.

FINGERS' VALUE.

H. T. Brookmiller, a compositor, asks $25,000 for the loss of the fingers of his left hand, due, he alleges, to an accident on the Pacific Electric car which left the track at Center street and Trolley Way, Venice, August 31, last. His fingers were amputated.

PLAINTIFF WINS. The suit of Henry M. Vaughan against Fred H. Bixby and others, involving the death of three horses and the emasculation of a fourth, was alleged to be a fraudulent nourishment and water, was decided by a jury in Judge Shenk's court yesterday in favor of Vaughan, for $500.

TO HEAR WATER CASES.

Railroad Commission Will Consider Four Complaints in Supreme Court Rooms This Month.

By general remodeling of the docket of the State Railroad Commission, announced yesterday through the branch office here, four cases of considerable significance are scheduled for hearing in the Supreme Court rooms in the Bullard building the 14th and 25th inst.

The first day, President Eshelman of the commission will sit in judgment on the cases of the Conservative Realty Company, asking for a re-issuance of a former case in which its rates for water service from the Graham Station plant were reduced. This hearing will be followed by consideration of the complaint of the Baldwin Park Chamber of Commerce vs. the Baldwin Park Domestic Water Company, questioning the reasonableness of its rates charged by the defendant.

Commissioner Loveland on the 15th will hear the case of O. E. Silnick against the Inglewood Water Company. Silnick contends that the collection charges of the water company are excessive and will consider the application of the Sunland Rural Company for right to institute toll charges between Sunland and this city.

Must Change Methods.

The Charities Commission is investigating the work of the Associated Charities and although the investigation has not been completed the commission has informed the officers of the Associated Charities of certain methods of handling funds must be changed before the commission's indorsement will be given.

$1.25 to $1.95 Lingerie Blouses

—Broken and surplus lines of dainty garments that were sold earlier in the season $1.25 to $1.95—the trimmings and materials alone would cost considerably more than the clearaway price! It's the season's final, drastic outclearance of Summer Blouses.

—With your first sight of these will vanish any idea that there could be any economy in buying your own lingerie blouses when such fetching models are offered at savings so great. Sketches give fascinating hints of the style range but they do not begin to do justice to the wide variety. It's an opportunity that scores of women will be eager to share in—a chance to economize largely on the kind of blouses that will appeal to the discriminating woman—styles that will admirably serve for early autumn wear. They'll create a stir in our Salons from the moment the doors open—better plan to make the earliest possible appearance.

2500 Blouses—the Remainders of our Summer Lines of $1.25 to $1.95 values—all grouped into this one greatly diversified assortment for a sweeping season-end-clear-away at 79c

—The Styles—The new blouse fashions are embodied in a host of charming variations—high collar, Dutch neck and low-collared styles with long or short sleeves. The popular frills are a chic feature of some of them, others are enlivened with a touch of color. There's a design to please every woman's fancy—too many to attempt even the briefest detailed description—see them, select the ones that you like.

NICE IS NEGOTIATING FOR CLEVELAND CATCHER

Endeavor to Buy Release of Grover Land, Who Is in Los Angeles—Looks Like High-Class Person—Naps Suspended Him for Remainder of the Season—Berry's Catchers in Hard Luck.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

He also yesterday opened a campaign with Cleveland for service of Grover Land. He showed a Tiger uniform yesterday and Hogan was surprised with the scaled big cat. He said he was in the city. They are incinerating the to effort to land him. He is the finished product, and said his leaguer in every way with the Cleveland club. He said of weeks ago, when he had a difference of opinion with the management. He said the argument, drawing a line that he lost him until the season.

He said employment, Land went West and inspect the land. He said he was in the land, decided to locate, buy and erect a wigwag, practice it that he can land a number work for Hogan. He said manager in the business Land yesterday, "to stand to Cleveland." He said he was from Cleveland. He said he was good to me, and I am Cleveland will see its way to me play here.

He said at once with the Cleveland with the privilege of release at the end of the season. He wants the Venetian. He said he was a probable however, that Hogan. If they sign him he said on him being made as he at once as they may under the present race.

humane treatment might have cured several niggers yet. I had reached an age where it ought to have commanded respect. I had intended to retire it on full pay in 1915. Now there is not enough left of it for a respectable funeral.

The black boys rudely dragged it from the back. Bayless O'Rourke, three ball through it, Rowdy Elliott slid into it spikes first, and Cecily Ferguson tried to knock a home run with it. The fans all the while unashamedly laughing their enjoyment of the disgraceful spectacle.

A perfectly good bat sacrificed to make a holiday. Where is our wanted civilization?

It is a barbarous custom—when the victim is eighteen blocks from the nearest bat store.

the bench for the rest of the inning. Page was picked on strikes. Krueger, believing that it is never too late to go good, planted the ball near V's scoreboard, and it expanded and grew into a three-bagger. Johnson whizzed a single over second, and Krueger, still puffing, gained the base. Jimmy Byrnes gained a hit to the same right-center. Ernie Smith took third. All hands curled up their toes when Ferritt led to Kane.

The Tigers took the final steps toward the pennant on June 15, at St. Louis. In the fifth, Elliott singling to center, going to second on Kosstner's sacrifice, advancing rapidly to third after Krueger's single, and Kane coming in for the final lap while Kane was beating out a high bouncer, which Ferritt was compelled to pick off the back of the rock. Johnny was flagged for stealing.

Byrnes reached third on the long waiter's gig, the same being nigbrow for poor judgment, prevented them from producing the expected results.

Jimmy Byrnes delivered his second hit with one out, a long single to right. Slagle, firm in the belief that Meloon was preparing to kick a field goal with the ball, lashed ancient Jimmy along to second, and he was ruthlessly shot down. Ferritt, who is becoming a veritable demon with the bat, lambasted a hit to left, and there is no telling where the procession would have stopped had not Byrnes

Right after the foul ball came near scoring a foul ball. All that prevented him was the umpire. Maggart shot the ball on a line over first, but it struck foul. Perrell was under way with the crack of the bat, and made a mad dash for the plate. O'Rourke and others cruelly deceiving him as to the real nature of the drive. It required the combined efforts of several strong men to stop Poll, and it was plain to be seen that he was already more than a match for him. He couldn't do that in this league. Poll didn't get a chance to do any more springing, Maggart popping to O'Rourke.

SEAL WINNING STREAK BROKEN.

Del Howard Changes Lineup, Havoc Results.

But Gets No Backing from

[BY TELETYPE WIRE TO THE TIMES]
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An eleventh-hour shake-up in the line-up played havoc today in Oakland with the winning streak of the Seals. Joe Tobin was trotted to right field in place of Mundorff, Charlie was switched to short and the new pitcher, Ed Egan, went to third. Just what was Manager Howard's idea was not explained, but nevertheless the substitutes were directly responsible for the loss of the game. Charlie, in the new berth of shortstop, was guilty of a hobble in the first inning, and cost the winning run, and Tobin was woefully weak at bat when he had several chances to make a hero of himself. At that it was a tight and interesting battle, and the Beavers had the small margin of two runs to one at the finish.

BOWLING NOTES.

Dr. Taxy and Mrs. Ballard were second round and Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Lapham and Mr. Scott, at the museum alleys last night, the evening of the match of ten games gave winners a majority of 174.

Mrs. Lapham rolled high game and high average of 186, for the winning thumb, and suffered with a sprained thumb, and did not play up her usual form.

Personal game totals were: Mrs. Lapham—215, 187, 288, 178, 193; Mrs. Scott—128, 187, 151, 142, 234; Mrs. Taylor—178, 193, 159, 171, 161; Mrs. Ballard—168, 174, 166, 153, 177.

mixed doubles bowling tournament is announced to commence tomorrow hence to be rolled on all afternoon represented by entries. The pairs already listed include Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Grover, Mr. H. C. Scott and Alford Mackenzie. Mrs. Rosa Todd and Mrs. M. A. Phelps have entered the tournament, but have not yet announced their partners. Mr. Thomas Prior and Walter Prior are mentioned by their friends as a probable pair, and Mrs. Florence Prior is expected to take part. It is considered by other entrants that Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Turner and Mr. J. Pierce and partner may be entered upon as competitors.
